Jordan to mark Prophet's birthday

AMMAN (J.T.) — All government departments and public institutions will remain closed on Tuesday, Nov. 3 on the occasion of the Prophet Mohammais's birthday, according to an official communique issued by the Prime Ministry on Mooday. The occasion will be celebrated by religious ceremonies in mosques throughout the Kiogdom, but the main ceremony will be held at Al Husseini Mosque in Amman, according to the Ministry of Awqaf and Islamic Affairs. The ministry earlier announced a programme of activities for this occasion planned by a national committee. programme of activities for this occasion planned by a national committee specially designated for this purpose. The committee has decided to distribute financial and in kind assistance to needy people on the occasion. The committee, which met recently under the chairmanship of Sheikh Abdul Aziz Al Khayyat, minister of Awqaf and Islamic affairs, said that it will organise visits to hospitals, homes for the aged and orphanages to distribute gifts. In addition, committee members will lay the foundation stones for a number of projects benefiting the poor. The committee includes representatives from several ministries and the University of

Volume 12 Number 3613

AMMAN, TUESDAY OCTOBER 27, 1987, RABIA AL AWWAL 4, 1408

Price: Jordan 100 fils; Syria 1 pound; Lebanon 1 pound; Saudi Arabia 1.50 riyals; UAE 1.50 dirhams; Great Britain 25 pence

Masri meets two new ambassadors

AMMAN (Petra) — Foreign Minister Taher Al Masri Monday received separately the newlyappointed Omani and Spanish amhassadors to Jordan, Bashir Ibn Salim Al Faraj and Ramon Armengod respectively. The two amhassadors presented to the minister copies of their creden-

New U.S. convoy heads for Kuwait

WASHINGTON (R) - A U.S. navy frigate began escorting the American-flag Kuwaiti tanker Middletown from Dubai northward for Kuwait on Monday, the Defence Department said. The Middletown, the 11th Kuwaiti tanker to raise the American flag under a protection agreement with Washington, left Duhai under escort from the frigate Ford, according to the Pentagon's U.S. central command.

Egypt gets 3 AWACS

CAIRO (AP) — Egypt on Monday took delivery of the second hatch of U.S.-huilt radar surveillance planes, completing its purchase of five of the airborne warning system. The Middle East News 'Agency (MENA) said three E-2c Hawkeye advance warning and control system (AWACS) planes were flown in to an unspecified air base by Egyptian pilots. MENA quoted chief of the Egyptian air force Major-General Alaa Barakat as saying the planes would go into service before the end of the year, and would he used in "times of tension," and for training pur-poses, MENA reported.

New London airport opens

LONDON (R) - A new London airport huilt mainly for husiness travellers opened officially on Monday just under 10 kilometres from the capital's financial centre. London City airport, which cost £30 million ($50 million) to. huild, is situated among derelict wharves in the revived docklands area of the British capital. Two British airlines, Brymon, part-owned by British Airways, and Eurocity Express, a subsidiary of British Midland, will fly daily to Paris and Brussels.

Italy puts seized ship's captain on trial

SAVONA, Italy (R) — The Irish captain of a Qatari-registered freighter arrested in Italy after the discovery of 14 tonnes of weapons on board went on trial on Monday accused of the illegal transport of arms. The trial of 48-year-old John Scallan in the northern port of Savona was immediately adjourned until Wednesday to allow the defence time to prepare its case.

Iran executes 5

NICOSIA (AP) — Five Iranians convicted of drug smuggling were executed Monday in the north-eastern city of Mashbad, Tehran Radio reported. The radio did not say how the sentence was carried Out.

INSIDE

- Jordan meeting economic challenge despite high population growth, page 2
- · Meeting reviews application of remote sensing in water exploration,
- page 3
   The factions within
- Iran's leadership, page 4 After France, exhibition introduces Jordanian-Palestinian culture to
- West Germany, page 5
  India crushes Zimbabwe but reduces batting
- average, page 6 Dollar and stocks
- plunge, page 7

   Sri Lankan rebels slip through Indian lines in Jaffna, page 8

UNRWA needs funds, Jordan tells U.N. panel

UNITED NATIONS (Petra) — Jordan on Monday told the Poli-tical Committee of the United Nations General Assembly that the financial problems faced by the United Nations Relief and Works Agency (UNRWA) for Palestine refugees had not been resolved and called for increased international contribution to enable the U.N. agency to carry out its programmes.

In an address before the committee, Jordan's permanent delegate to the U.N., Mr. Abdullah Salah, paid tribute to efforts exerted by UNRWA Commissioner General Georgio Giacomelli to find solutions to the agency's problems. But, Mr. Saleh said, the efforts have not met with total success and the agency still faced a dire financial crisis. The health and educational services currently offered by UN-RWA to Palestinian refugees do not represent 40 per cent of the needed level and the annual expenditure on every Palestinian student is increased only by $15, despite the spiralling rate of inflation, Mr. Salah said.

See related report on page 5

cuss coordinating Arab states' defences against Iran following three Iranian missile attacks on Kuwait in the last I1 days.

Kuwait Radio said Iraq's First Deputy Prime Minister Taha

Yassin Ramadan and Foreign Minister Tareq Aziz spent several hours discussing Tehran's repeated aggressions against Iraq, Kuwait and Saudi Arabia with the Kuwaitis. But it did not

Before the Iraqi leaders flew back to Baghdad after their light-ning visit, Mr. Ramadan was quoted as saying Kuwait and Iraq must coordinate their policies to confront the dangers "facing Iraq. Kuwait and Saudi Arabia."

Iran has fired three missiles into Kuwaiti oil installations since

Oct. 15. Kuwaiti newspapers have also blamed Iran for Saturday's bombing of the downtown agency for Pan American World

Tehran accuses Kuwait of elahorate.

Wall Street stocks plummet again, cutting hopes for recovery

Reagan, congress leaders begin crucial talks

NEW YORK (Agencies) — Stocks plummeted another 157 points on Monday, erasing much of last week's recovery gain and casting Wall Street back into the gloom caused by its collapse a week ago.

The Dow Jones industrial average slid 156.83 points to close at 1,793.93, according to unofficial tabulations.

A week ago it lost 508 points in its worst loss on record hat a midweek rally regained over half the lost ground.

The calm that traders hoped would return to world stock markets following last week's turmoil proved to be elusive Monday as stock prices also plunged in the Far East and Europe with New York.

The market was shoved off course from the start hy huge setbacks in Tokyo and London. In addition, stocks were pushed lower hy forecasts from a growing number of economists who say the stock market's steep decline

Iraq and Kuwait discuss joint

KUWAIT (Agencies) - Two The Iranians have also hroad-honourable Arah position," he mg riots in the Holy City of Mecca July 31 in which hundreds of Saudi security men and Iranian

The visit to Kuwait of Mr.

Ramadan and Mr. Aziz followed a meeting in Riyadh of foreign ministers of the Gulf Cooperation

Council (GCC), during which member states closed ranks with

Kuwait against Iran after the attacks using Chinese-made Silk-

The GCC groups Kuwait and Saudi Arahia with Bahrain,

Qatar, the United Arah Emirates

and Oman in a security and eco-

The Saudi Arabia, Mr. Rama-

Mr. Ramadan told the Kuwait

News Agency (KUNA) he could not say with certainty whether Iran would accept a United Nations resolution calling for a ceasdan delivered a message from Iraqi President Saddam Hussein

Arab defences against Iran pilgrims were killed.

worm missiles.

nomic alliance.

to King Fahd.

efire in the conflict.

senior Iraqi leaders met with cast a barrage of bitter conde- said.

threatens 10 push an already sluggish U.S. economy into a reces-

The hroad decline left only about 30 stocks higher and some 1.540 with losses as New York stock exchange volume surged to 308 million shares in a shortened

To deal with the problem of paperwork hnilt up in last week's frenetic activity, the stock exchanges again closed early, at 2 p.m. EST (1900 GMT), to give traders time to catch up. In addition, restrictions on programme trading remained in force.

In Washington, President Ronald Reagan opened talks with congressional leaders on deficitreduction measures prompted hy the stock market panic.

Perez de Cuellar has given both countries until the end of the month to accept proposals for

The Iraqi officials had talks with Kuwait's Foreign Minister

Sheikh Sahah Al Ahmad Al

Sahah, who was quoted by a local newspaper on Monday as saying he hoped Arab states would cut ties with Iran at the extraordinary summit next month in Amman.

The GCC statement issued after the Riyadh meeting of foreign ministers on Sunday called on the upcoming summit to shoulder its responsibility towards the Gulf

The communique said the ministers reviewed Arab relations with Iran in light of previous discussions on pan-Arah levels and expected the upcoming Arah summit conference to deal with the issue "and define the nature of these relations, with the hope that the summit will shoulder its developments.

implementing a ceasefire.

Last week's panic was tied to a wide variety of concerns, including worries about the weakness of the U.S. dollar and rising foreign

In New York Monday, U.S. interest rates fell and the dollar rehounded from the lows it reached in overseas trading. Analysts suspected central hanks had intervened to support the U.S. currency (See page 7).

The negotiations between the Reagan administration and Congress will get down to specifics at a closed-door meeting on Capitol Hill on Tuesday that is to take place under a news hlackout to avoid influencing jittery world

White House spokesman Mar-lin Fitzwater said Monday's meeting dealt primarily with logistical and procedural issues.

He said both sides agreed that this was not a time for the administration and Congress to indulge in criticism of each other's economic policies.

Ibrahimi arrives in low- U.N. Secretary General Javier RIYADH (Agencies) — Alge-Taleb Ibrahimi arrived in Saudi Arahia on Monday for talks with senior officials, the Saudi Press Agency (SPA) reported.

S. Arabia

Dr. Ibrahimi arrived from Amman where he delivered to His Majesty King Hussein a message from Algerian President Chadli Benjedid concerning the extraor-dinary Arah summit due to convene on Nov. 8 in Amman.

Dr. Ibrahimi, who also visited Syria, was expected to he received by Saudi Arabian King Fahd to discuss summit arrangements.

The issues to be discussed at the summit include the Arab-Israeli conflict, the Iran-Iraq war and the situation in strife-torn

During his one-day stay in Amman, Dr. Ibrahimi also discussed with Foreign Minister Taher Al Masri the means of "ensuring the success of the summit and enabling the Arab heads of state to arrive at a consensus on different Arab issues," the Jordan News Agency, Petra, reported.

Israeli soldiers raid Dheishe, detain at least 18 Palestinians BETHLEHEM (Agencies) — heard shots fired but don't know the presence of a five-mention of the presence of except for 18 accused of leading quoted hy news agencies said. The camp of Dheishe, which has a population of about 8,000,

a main highway outside Beth-

Residents of Dheishe, which was still under curfew 12 hours after the operation began, peered at troops from halconies while children raised their fingers in

V-signs at the sight of television

Mohammad Ibrahim Ayad also said he heard gunfire during the night, "a lot of it." But Israeli army officers claimed no shots were fired and no injuries

occured in the camp, 10 kilometres south of Jerusalem.

The sweep through the narrow,

winding streets of Dheishe followed a series of resistance activities in which stones ano molotov cocktails were thrown at passing cameras.

Israeli cars.

rifles and wooden hatons raided the Dheishe refugee camp on the outskirts of Bethlehem on Monday, arresting 18 Palestinians, Israeli army officials said. The nine-hour sweep began at midnight, and camp residents said Israeli soldiers carried out house-to-house searches and gunshots were heard during the night.

"They went door-to-door and rounded up all the men over 17 and then took them over there," Hisham Mustafa Ali, a man in his 30s, told a reporter.

He pointed outside the camp across the Jerusalem-Hehron highway to a rocky hillside, where army officers said all men between the ages of 16 and 30 were taken for a check of their identity cards.

Raha' Mana, a camp housewife, said troops had made house-to-house searches while loudspeakers called on all men aged 16 to 30 to gather outdoors. "It was very cold when the young men went out. We also

The stonings occurred despite the presence of a five-metre fence around the camp. All were released hours later,

According to an army state-ment attributed to military stoning attacks against Israeli cars passing outside the camp, sources sources, the sweep was made because Palestinian organisations had been "carrying out activity in the camp with the intention of disrupting the flow of traffic on the Jerusalem-Hehron highway." is a maze of small stone houses on

It said those detained were picked up on the hasis of "reliable and continuing information and had been instigating demon-strations and the throwing of stones and fire bombs.

An army colonel who hriefed reporters at the scene on condition of anonymity said four Israelis had been injured in stone throwing incidents in the past two

Army officials said 18 were arrested, and the colonel said about half those detained were held under "administrative detention," meaning they can be jailed for up to six months without trial. Others were charged with incitement and creating "disturb-

Kuwait to ; lend $25m for Aqaba power plant

AMMAN (J.T.) — Kuwait is to lend Jordan seven million Kuwaiti dinars (about $25 million) to help fund expansion of the Agaha Thermal Power Station, the Jordan News Agency, Petra, said Monday.

Badr Al Humaidi, general manager of the Kuwait Fund for Arab Economic Development (KFAED), told Petra on arrival here on Monday that he would sign the loan agreement during his visit.

During his visit to Jordan, Mr. Humaidi will also meet with senior officials and will inspect development projects financed by KFAED and a joint committee coordinating Kuwaiti investments in Jordan.

AMMAN (J.T.) — Dr. Romano Lantíni, head of the delegation of the European Community (EC) Commission in Jordan, died in Amman Monday, the commission office announced Monday. He was Dr. Lantini, who was born in Italy, joined the EC Commission in 1973, and was appointed EC delegate to Jordan in 1984.

EC delegate passes away

Dr. Lantini is survived by his wife, two sons and a daughter (See

Gemayel ends Gulf visit

Gemayel flew home from the Gulf Monday after talks with the leaders of Bahrain and the United Arah Emirates in preparanon for the Nov. 8 Arah summit in Amman, Mr. Gemayel conferred with the emir of Bahrain, Sheikh Isa Ibn Salman Al Khalifa, on bilateral ties, the situation in Lebanon and other Arab and Gulf

BAHRAIN (Agencies) — issues, the Gulf News Agency Lehanese President Amin reported.

Earlier, he held talks with UAE President Sheikh Zayed Ibn Sultan Al Nahayan in Abu Dhahi. The Emirates News Agency (WAM) said he discussed Arah affairs, particularly the Lebanese crisis, and bilateral ties. There was no further official detail in either capital on Mr. Gemayel's visits.

"But we are confident that what will achieve the goal is our steadfastness on the side of an "and standard was shoulder its responsibility towards the continuing aggression on this important part of the Arah World." hacking Baghdad in the Gulf war and has threatened to go on attacking Kuwaiti installations. Peres to seek Soviets say summit possible by end compensation of 1987 if U.S. ready to discuss SDI for Jews who MOSCOW (R) - Soviet officials a full treaty when Mr. Reagan siles (ICBMs).

left Arab states TEL AVIV (R) - Israeli Foreign Minister Shimon Peres told the Knesset (parliament) on Monday

that compensation for Jews who emigrated from Arah states should be part of any Middle East peace settlement. "In a suitable opportunity for dialogue, which I am sure will come, we shall raise our demand for the return of property that belonged to the Jews or at least to receive appropriate compensation for it," Mr. Peres said.

"In agreements with the Arah countries we shall stress a settlement of the claims of the former Jewish residents," he said.

According to Mr. Peres. 900,000 Jews left Arah countries after Israel was created in 1948. Arah leaders have said compensation for the estimated one million Palesrinians who left their homes in 1948 is a condition for any peace accord with the Israelis. Mr. Peres said an appeals comer summit was still possible this the first half of next year. year if the United States was ready to discuss its "Star Wars" strategic defence initiative (SDI).

They said that message was given hy Soviet leader Mikhail Gorhachev to U.S. Secretary of State George Shultz during Kremlin talks last Friday. "It could still be pulled off this year if they really want it," said one official. "But it won't happen if they keep saying no, no, no to all our proposals to get things moving. Mr. Gorbachev declined to set a date for his third meeting with U.S. President Ronald Reagan. But he said he was ready to go to Washington, adding: For the moment I am concerned about the possible results."

Soviet Foreign Minister Eduard Shevardnadze told reporters after two days of talks with Mr. Shultz that Moscow wanted an outline agreement on strategic arms reductions (START) ready for a summit.

This would he followed, in the mission should be set up to deal This would be followed, in the with the Arah and Israeli claims. Soviet scenario, by the signing of said on Monday that a superpow- made a return visit to Moscow in

At present the two sides are close on terms for a START accord but remain at loggerheads over its linkage with SDI and the future of the 1972 Anti-Ballistic Missile (ABM) treaty, viewed hy Moscow as the cornerstone of the arms control process.

"The Americans keep saying we are trying to kill SDI," said one Soviet official. "Of course we don't like it but we know it's not going to go away while Reagan remains in the White House. "So we have been trying to see how we can accommodate it. But the United States won't even discuss it. Moscow insists that if Washington pushes ahead full-steam with SDI, which the Kremlin regards as a potentially offensive system, it could not agree to cut its strategic arsenal. Soviet officials say their response to the system, which Washington describes as a space shield against rocket attack, would have to be a huild-up of intercontinental hallistic mis-

Mr. Gorbachev told Mr. Shultz he believed it need take only about six weeks to prepare a list of "key positions" or agreed prin-ciples on START and space weapons for signing at a summit. He said that together with the treaty on destroying all intermediate-range missiles (INF) in Europe and Asia, which both sides say is very close to completion, this would make a "fulldimensional agenda" for a Washington meeting.

But Mr. Shultz, in his own account, told the Kremlin leader the United States could not accept any restrictions on its efforts to defend itself.

Mr. Shultz said Sunday a U.S.-Soviet summit might not occur in the remaining months of Mr. Reagan's administration if Mr. Gorbachev continues to throw roadhlocks in the way of an arms control agreement.

Mr. Shultz met with Mr. Reagan on Sunday for a briefing with National Security Adviser Frank C. Carlucci, the White

ARAB BANK Ltd.

Established in Jerusalem in 1930

The Arab Bank Limited is pleased to announce the opening of Al Jubeihah office which started operating on Saturday 24 October 1987.

The office offers full banking services in the morning and afternoon.

- Arab Bank Ltd. -

Al Jubeinah Office The University of Jordan street Tel. 848841 P.O. Box 175 Sweileh

Despite high population growth Jordan meeting economic challenge with success Bankers detect upbeat mood in market

By Alistair Lyon

Jordan is peculiarly sensitive to ils Middle Eastern environment.

Its three main revenue sources are Arah aid, remittances from about 325,000 citizens working abroad, mainly in the Gulf, and exports, especially to Iraq and

From the mid-1980s, all three

We're facing hardship, hut at reasonable level," said Mr.

Jardaneh. "There is movement towards the creation of more confidence. Next month's Arah summit in Amman will help, and so will the relative stability of oil dire." a Western economist said.

"Jordan has shown past resilience in dealing with regional fluctuations and its economic manage-

"Improvement continued in the first half of 1987." Central

Bank Deputy Governor Maher

Al Shukri told Reuters. "Things are balanced, though they are not

Dr. Shukri said this year's in-

He cited a seven per cent first half rise in industrial output. The net value of exports and re-exports rose 15 per cent and imports

JD 248 million ($724 million).

from JD 277 million ($810 million) in first half 1986, Central net foreign exchange position im-

Qadhafi earlier this month.

"The ambassador hriefed the

The Soviet Union sees a contradiction hetween American words and actions, and if the American style were to continue envoy as telling Col. Qadhafi.

brother leader on the stance of the Soviet Union supporting

"From January to August, the

The trade deficit narrowed to growing at previous levels."

dicators were encouraging.

fell three per cent.

Bank figures show.

ment is generally sound."

'There's a crisis, hut it's not slackened as lower oil prices hit

Saudi Arahia.

Gulf Arab economies.

AMMAN — Jordan is battling a hostile economic climate with some success, but its rapidly rising population threatens to outstrip growth, economic analysts say.

With a population estimated at 2.76 million at the end of 1986 faccording to officials at the Ministry of Labour), the country has one of the world's highest rates of population increase. which threatens to outsimp its economic growth.

The economy: bankers say, is growing at around two or three

The population, according to officials, is increasing at 3.9 per cent, with natural increase accounting for 3.4 per cent and an influx of foreign workers for 0.5

Half the population is aged under 15 years, and 75 per cent of it under 30 years, bringing the comment from a Western diplomat that Jordan was priming a demographic time bomb.

Officials say unemployment in the country stood at eight per cent of the workforce at the end of 1986 but has prohably increased since.

Nonetheless, bankers detect a mood of cautious husiness

"At the start of 1987 the economy was stagnant. Exports and imports were declining and industry was working far under capacity," said Basil Jardaneh, manager of Jordan Investment and Finance Corp. "Now things seem to be gaining momentum.

Bank of Jordan Manager Michel Marto agreed: "The oil boom has gone, the shock was large, hut the economy is picking

"It's growing at two or three per cent, which is not had, but the population is growing faster." he proved substantially, despite a tinued unilateral U.S. action in the Gulf would affect relations between Moscow and byan leader Muammar Qadhafi

that the United States had no right to take unilateral action in

He made the comment when he delivered a letter to Col.

Qadhafi from Soviet leader

Mikhail Gorbachev, JANA,

The agency did not say when

JORDAN TELEVISION

monitored in Beirut, reported.

Washington.

the Gulf.

Soviet envoy to Libya

condemns U.S. Gulf action

BEIRUT (R1 - The Soviet the meeting took place but said

Ambassador to Libva was re-ported on Monday as saying con-to Mr. Gorbachev by Col.

The official Libyan News peace in the Gulf and which

Agency JANA quoted Ambassa affirms that America has no right dor Pogos Akopov as telling Li- to act unilaterally in the region."

decline in official workers remittances of about 10 per cent," Dr.

Central Bank foreign exchange reserves stood at $300 million in August, or ahout six weeks' import cover, after recovering from a low of $150 million in April.

Official remittances were worth about $1.2 billion last year, slightly up on the 1985 total. No figures are available for oncesubstantial unofficial transfers.

Diplomats say fewer Jordanians have lost jobs in the Gulf than other foreign workers there. Many are highly-skilled and wellentrenched, and His Majesty King Hussein has made diplomatic efforts on their behalf. Many have taken pay cuts, however.

Dr. Shukri said that Iraqi deht to Jordan had fallen to about $530 million from $600 million at the start of 1987. Iraq pays in oil for two thirds of the goods and services hought from Jordan, with the rest paid by a clearing arrangement between the two Central Banks.

Output of potash, phosphates and femilisers. Jordan's main industrial exports, is up, partly offsetting low world prices.

But exports of farm produce and industrial goods to markets in Iraq and the Guif have heen declining, "These countries are either becoming more self-sufficient or they are turning to more competitive producers," Western economist said.

Saudi Arahia pays a yearly grant of $360 million, the only Arah donor still keeping pledges made at a 1978 Arab summit in Baghdad which promised Jordan, as a frontline state with Israel, $1,25 hillion a year. Next year the aid commitment expires, as does extra U.S. aid of $250 million which hegan in 1985.

Saudi aid may continue to flow, hut a senior official, who refused to he named, predicted a policy of "adaptation and adjustment, including cuts in government expenditure."

Yet economists worry at the level of government spending, which accounts for 60 per cent of gross domestic product (GDP).

"People have adjusted well to lower growth by cutting expenditure. Unfortunately the government so far seems to feel uoable to do the same," Mr. Marto said. Central Bank figures for the revenue up five per cent, spending I1 per cent higher than the same 1986 period and a hudget deficit of $300 million. Economic analysts warn that official hudget figures are confus-

first six months of 1987 show ing because foreign loans are counted as revenue, which military accounts are largely unknown factors.

But bankers say the balance of payments has weathered the strain so far. "On the whole it's holding up quite well," Mr. Marto said.

Central Bank figures put last year's current account deficit at about $47 million, compared to $292 million in 1985, while the overall payments halance showed a 1986 surplus of $102 million. against a surplus of $110 million in 1985.

Several hankers said the Jordanian dinar was overvalued and a devaluation would spur exports' and the economy in general, hut said faith in the dinar encouraged remittances and savings.

Dr. Shukri said the Central Bank wanted to ensure the dinar was not over valued. In practice, the currency has been allowed to drift slowly downwards against the International Monetary Fund's special drawing rights to which it is officially pegged.

"Why should we devalue?" Dr. Shukri asked, "We will not use the exchange rate as an instrument to stimulate one sector of the economy at the expense of another. Our goal is stability.'

Unemployment, danger money drive seamen to Gulf

By Diane Stormont

MANILA - For every Western merchant seaman who refuses to risk life and limh in the Gulf, dozens of Asians line up to brave its mines and missiles.

"I take the risk because I need a job and I have a family to support," said Indian tating Gregory Braganza, recently returned from the war zone.

No-one knows exactly how many merchant seamen have died in more than 350 attacks on ships in the Gulf since 1984, when the Iran-Iraq war spread to its wa-

At least 37 have been killed in missile and mine attacks this year hut accurate information is hard to get and the figure is probably

In 1986, 52 merchant seamen were killed in 80 raids on ship-

The graphic scenes of war are shown regularly in newspapers and on television in Asia hut the double pay offered to those who sail the Gulf is a powerful incenove according to a survey by Reuter correspondents.

"We've had several ships hit and have lost several men, out as they get wages only when they they are still lining up to go," said Renato Matthews, fleet opera- and to the Gulf." tions manager for the Manila crewing agency Blue Manila

Indian, Filipino and South Korean crews face local competition for jobs and the war bonuses are an added incentive, unioo and shipping sources said.

Shipping.

The Philippines, one of the world's major sources of crews, has seafarers queuing for even the most dangerous jobs in the Kenneth McKenzie, director of Wallem Maritime Services which employs about 1,500 Filipino seamen worldwide, said: "At most there's perhaps one to three out of every hundred who refuse to go to the Gulf.

"They need the money and certainly don't clamour to come home.

An estimated 50 Indian seamen have died in attacks on Indianregistered ships in the Gulf.

Leo Barnes, general secretary of the National Union of Seafarers of India, said: "We advise (Indians) to avoid the war zone hut still they have little choice left sail and good wages if they sail

Hong Kong's 13,400 Chinese seamen are exceptions to the Asian willingness to enter the war zone, shipping managers in the British colony said.

"There is a marked reluctance to go to sea in general," declared Michael Farlie, director of the Hong Kong Shipowners Association. He said Hong Kong's labour shortage and booming economy provided alternatives to the sea.

Japanese seafarers fear that any reluctance to sail will speed up a gradual loss of jobs in the industry, union officials said.

The country bas 200 to 300 nationals in the Gulf on any day, shipping industry sources in Tokyo said.

"Of course we don't want to go to such a risky area, hut some-body has to do it." said one Japanese seaman. Trade unions in Japan agreed to two short-lived shipping industry boycotts on Gulf sailings after attacks on Japanese-registered vessels in which several men were

A British radio officer wrote to his union after a six-month stint there: "The pressure is beginning to tell. Things are getting out of hand. But even in Europe, growing unemployment as the shipping industry looks east for cheap labour provides some incentive A British Merchant Officers' Union said half its members were still prepared to accept the perilous Gulf voyages. Both Japanese and British seamen dismiss their danger bonuses

The Japanese argue that the money is insufficient to compensate for the danger, while the British say joh pressures are the main reason for sailing to the

'We have a lot of evidence that companies are putting sailors under pressure, said Andrew Linnington, spokesman for Britain's National Union of Marine. Aviation and Shipping Transport

He said one oil company threatened to dismiss officers who refused to go to the Gulf, while another warned their prom-European sailors are hecoming otion prospects would suffer.

Mossad reportedly urged Begun to delay emigration

MOSCOW (AP) - An official newspaper has accused Jewish activist Josef Begun of delaying his emigration to Israel at the behest of an Israeli agent, who convinced him that would be more valuable to the Jewish movement.

The government newspaper Izvestia printed what it said was a transcript of a tape of the alleged agent, who it identified as Ben Ahraham, exhorting Begun to remain in the Soviet Union as long as possible.

The 55-year-old Begun, one of the best known Jewisb activists in. Moscow, said in a telephone interview the article was "disinformadon" intended to frighten Soviet Jews.

After being refused permission to emigrate for 16 years, Begun suddenly was granted permission to leave on Sept. 7. He was given until Sept. 25, hut he said Sunday he is prepared to stay until his daughter-in-law also can leave.

Izvestia said Abraham came to Moscow for the International ok Fair that opened Sept. 8 accredited as a toy dealer. But it accused him of having close ties to the Israeli Mossad secret ser-

Izvestia said the tape was made hy someone who took Abraham "for a prophet," hut did not say who made it or how the newspaper ohtained it.

Khalaf pledges to fight for Kuwait against Iran people of Kuwait in defence of

KUWAIT (AP) - A prominent Palestinian commando leader pledged Monday to have Palestinians fight alongside Kuwait to help the Gulf Arah states deter Iranian "aggression."

"The Iranian rulers should know that our people are fully Kuwait's national soil and the dignity of the Arah nation," said Salah Khalaf in an interview with the Associated Press. The Palestinian people will fight along with the people of Kuwait or any other Gulf Arah prepared to fight along with the state against the Iranian aggres-

Fateh movement, the leading Palestinian guerrilla faction under the umbrella of the Palestine Liberation Organisation (PLO). Mr. Arafat is also chair-man of the PLO.

Cicciolina upsets orthodox Jews TEL AVIV (AP) — Enraged Cinerama owners persuaded Cic-

worshippers assisted hy police ciolina to exclude some explicit evicted visiting Italian porn star scenes, including the one in which and legislator Cicciolina from the Wailing Wali Sunday while Israeli officials revoked her work permit. Tova Elinson, spokeswoman for the Ministry of Interior which is controlled by the ultra-orthodox Shas Party, said the ministry was considering lodging a com-plaint against Cicciolina for committing a lewd act during a night cluh performance. The 37-year-old Hungarian-horn stripper, appearing nude, used a boa constrictor, a violin, a stuffed dog and a baby doll during her hardcore performance Saturday night. Orthodox Jews threw chairs at appeared at Jerusalem's Wailing Wall, an eyewitness said. He said that paramilitary border police guards forcibly evicted Cicciolina from a square in front of the Wailing Wall. The ministry order called on Tel Aviv police to "see to it that she does not appear." But police did not intervene as Cicciolina, horn Hona Staller, made the final appearance of her four-day visit Sunday night in front of several hundred spectators at the Cinerama Discotheque in Tel Aviv.

Israel Army Radio said that she uses a boa constrictor, from her act. Cicciolina decided to conduct the performance despite a possihle arrest, said Miri Ben Yosef, a public relations agent representing the porn queen. Ben Yosef indicated Cicciolina controversy surrounding her visit. "It happens to her in every country," Ms. Ben Yosef said in a telephone interview. "That's what she wants. In a television interview taped before her permit was revoked

try. And now Cicciolina, with her crown of flowers and her little head is also preaching love," she said.

programme, usually reserved for politicians and the top newsmakers of the day, Cicciolina, which means "little cuddly one" in Italian, hlew a kiss to Foreign Minister Shimon Peres.

Iran leader calls for

KUWAIT (AP) — An Iranian leader called for a nation-wide mobilisation for an all-out war against the United States

News Agency quoted Interior Minister Hojatoleslam Ali Akhar Mohtashemi called on "people in every Iranian city and village to be prepared for a full-pledged war" with the United States in the Gulf.

"Since we are facing a savage enemy, we should mobilise all

He hranded the Americans as

Tel "THEP PROGRAMME ONE

PROGRAMME TWO News in Hebrew Varieties News in Arabic Brush Strokes (New Contedy) Master Work Reinington Steele

855 KHz, AM & 95 MHz, FM & paids on 9500 KHz, SW T.A. 772111-19

67:00	. Lieht Music
67:30	Newsdrsk
08:00	Morning Show
10:00	News Summars
10:10	Iust a Minute
11:00	Follow the Wind
12:00	New Summary
12:05	Al-Minute Theatre
13:00	News Summars
13:05	Pop Session Contd
14:00	News Bulletin
14:15 Instrumentals
14:30	Easy Listening
15:00	Concert Hour
16:00	News Summary
16:05	lnstrumentals
16:30	Old Favirunies
13:00	Pop Talk
17:30	Pop Talk Pup Session New Summary
t3:00	New Summary
18:05	Тор Тwemi,
18:30	Munic
19:00	News Desk
10:30	Date with a Star
20:00	Evening Show
21:00	News Summary

BBC WORLD SERVICE 609, TOU DESIGNATION

07:00 Newsdesk 07:30 Musa in Old Old England 07:45 Ref lections 07:50 Fritangial News08:00 World News Round-up 21:00 Newsdesk 21:30 Development 87 22:00 News Summary, Outlook

MW 1260 & SW 7200, 9565, 11740, 11925 and 15210 Hz

06:00 News 6:10 Newsline 06:30 VOA Murning 07:00 News 07:10 Newsline 07:30 VOA Murning 08:00 News 08:10 Newsline 08:30 VOA Morning 09:00 Newsline 08:30 VOA Morning 09:90 News 09:10 Newsline 09:30 VOA Morning 18:00 News 18:10 Newsline 18:30 Miusic USA 19:80 News 19:10 Focus 19:30 Special English News & Features 20:90 News 20:10 Newsline 20:30 Magazine Show 21:00 News 21:10 Focus 21:30 Special English News & Features 22:30 Mess 22:10 Newsline America 22:30 Music USA 23:00 News & Editorial 23:15 Music USA Jazz 24:00 News 24:10 World Report

Demjanjuk trial resumes TEL AVIV (AP) - The trial of juk. 67, is charged with operating

John Demjanjuk resumed after a two-month hreak Monday with testimony from a KGB expert as the defence sought to overcome the failure of two main witnesses to hold up under scrutiny.

But questioning of 64-year-old Avraham Shifrin was sharply curfailed by a ruling from presiding Judge Dov Levine, who said Shifnn's testimony must relate direct ly to Demjanjuk's case.

Shifrin is the first of a series of witnesses the defence plans to call in an effort to prove a key piece of prosecution evidence — Demas it is, then it would lead to the destruction of all the positive results achieved hetween the two janjuk's alleged SS identity card states and would affect relations - was forged by the Soviet between them," it quoted the Union. The Ukrainian-born Demjangas chambers at the Trehlinka camp in Nazi-occupied Poland, where about 850,000 people were killed in 1942-43. He could receive the death penalty if convicted.

A retired autoworker from a Cleveland suburh, Demjanjuk claims he is a victim of mistaken identity. He has testified that during the period in question no was a Nazi prisoner of war at a camp in Chelm, near Treblinka.

Shifrin, a Russian-born Jew who runs a centre in Jerusalem on activities of the KGB, was imprisoned in Soviet labour camps and questioned regularly hy KGB agents hefore being permitted to emigrate to Israel.

FOR THE TRAVELLER

QUEEN ALIA

This information is supplied by Royal Jordanian (RJ) information depart-ment at the Queen Alia International Airport Tel. (08) 53200-5, where it

ARRIVALS ROYAL JORDANIAN FLIGHTS

10:15 10:15 10:30 10:40 10:55 11:00

18:3 19:0 19:1 20:-Rome (add.) (RJ]

Armenian Orthodox Church Ashra-

elical Lutheran Church | Church Evangelical Lutheran Church | Church of the Good Shepherd | Amman. Arabic Service: Sunday 7 p.m. Rev. N. Smir 811295. Smir S11.255.
Rainbow Congregation. (meets at the Good Shepherd's Church) Interdenominational-ecumenical English Service: Saturday 6:30 p.m. Tel. 822605. Rev. Veli. The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints (Mormon) Tel. 815817, 821264. INTERNATIONAL AIRPORT

hould always be verified.

06:45 Singapore, Ku ala Lumpur (RJ)

-90
	Doba, Bahrain (RJ1
:06	Duhai Abu Dhabi (R.I.)
:00	Los Angeles. Chicago, Vienna
	(RI)
:30	Cairo (RJ)
:35	New York, Vienna (RJ)
:00	Paris. Brussels (RJ1
:05	Copenhagen, Frankfun (RJ)
:15	Istanbul (RJ)
:40	Tripoli (RJ)
. 10	Rome, Lamaca (RJ)
	D / 111/701

OTHER FLIGHTS (Terminal 2)

13:30	Bucharest 11
13:30	Muscal. Doha (
14:20	Moscow j
14:35	Kuwait II
ts:45	Tripoli (
16:00	Riyadh (
17:35	Cairo /
t8:45	Rome ( Dubai (
21:10	Zurich, Larnaca)
	London, Cairo (
DEDA	RTURES
ישטיי	AL JORDANIAN FLIGH
HO I	HE SOUDWISHIA LEIGH

(Terminal 1) Aqaba (RJ) Rome (RJ)

••••
11:45	Tripoli (
t2:00	Vienna. New York (I
12:45	Belgrade, Madrid (I
13:00	, Geneva, London ()
13:30	Cairo (I Istanbul (I
14:00	Larnaça []
20:35	Kuwaii (F Dhahran (I
20:50	Bahrain, Doha (I
21:t5	Cairo (I
21:45	Abu Dhabi, Dubai (I
22:45	Damascus (I

..... Bangkok [RJ] OTHER FLIGHTS (Terminal 2)

... Berrut (MEA Bucharesi (RO Moscow 15 U ... Damascus (AZ)

PRAYER TIMES

06:51         (Sunrisc) Duha           12:20         Dhuhr           1S.23         "Asr           17:48         Maghreb           19:08         "Isha
MONEY EXCHANGE
Monday rates
Local sell/buy rates in fils   Belgian Iranc

French Iranc 571 28.
Italian Iran 26.57 26.9
Japanese ven (for 100) 238.87 244
Swedish crown 547 54.9
Swiss Iranc 230.37 235.5
U.S. sterling pound 569.37 580.4
U.S. dollar 340.17 344
W. German mark 190.67 194.3

Bulletin supplied by the Department of

It will be partly cloudy, with north-westerly moderate winds. A slight in-crease in temperature is expected. In Araba winds will be northerly moder man 18. Agaba 27. Humidity readings: Amman 60 per cent. Aqaba 35 per appeared to he pleased with the Cicciolina compared herself to Jesus Christ. "Two thousand years ago Jesus with his crown of thorns preached love in this coun-Cicciolina Sunday as she

During the "new evening" TV

She called the Labour Party leader "Cicciolina Peres" hut refused to extend the compliment to Prime Minister Yitzhak Sha-

mobilisation against U.S.

Iran's official Islamic Republic

our resources and manpower to deal effective blows against it (the United States)," Hojatoleslam Mohtashemi, a leading radical, was quoted as telling regional governors in Tehran.

"weak and cowardly" and de-clared that "any slight hlow" would intensify President Ronald Reagan's political problems over his deployment of a U.S. naval

TV & RADIO

Keran 15:56 Physiones and Children's prog-Local seminar Ligal wires Local educational programme Programme resiew and varieties News in Arabi Arabic Series Debate on Legal Issues Local varieties programme News summary in Arabic 18:00 Richelico (diame) 19:00 News in French 19:15 Dith International Circus Show

> Dorothy L. Savris RADIO JORDAN

News in English

07:00		Light Music
GT30		Newsdry
08:00		. Morning Show
10:00		News Suminary
10:10		. Just a Minus
11:00		Just a Minute Follow the Wine
12:00		News Summar
12:05		News Summary 31-Minute Theatre
13:00		News Summary
13:05		Pop Session Contd
14:00		News Bulletin
14:15		. Instrumental
14:30		Easy Listening
15:00		Concert House
16:00		News Summary
		Instrumental
16:30		. Old Favirurite
12:00		Pop Tall
17:30		Pur Casana
19-00		Pop Tall Pup Session News Summan
18-05		Тор Тwелі
18-30
19:00		News Desi
10-20	••• • •••••	Date with a Star
20:00		Evening Show
		News Summar
21.00		ייי ויכאי אווווווודע

Evening Show Contu.

News Summary

Evening Show Continued

News Summary

Evening Show Continued

Close Down

Old England 1974S Ref Jection 1250
Friannial News 08:00 World News 08:00 24 Hours, New Summars 08:30
Nature Notebook 08:45 Recording of the Week 09:00 Newsdesk 09:30
Essays on Popular Music 10:00 World News 10:00 24 Hours' New Summars 10:30 The Cow and the Toreador 10:45 Network U.K. 11:00 World News 11:00 Reflections 11:15 Tech Talk 11:30 Composer and Patron 12:00 World News 12:00 Brirish Piess Review 12:15 Good Books 12:20 Financial News Sports Roundup 12:45 Music for a While 13:00 News Summars, Utscowers 13:30 Sports International 14:00 World News 14:10 News About Britain 14:15 Waveguide 14:25 Book Chowe 14:30 Drama Serial 15:00 Radio News received 15:15 Hours 15:45 Sports Roundup 16:00 World News Radio Newtreet 15/15 Hours 15/45 Sports Round-up 16/80 World News 16/09 24 Hours News Summary 16/30 Network U.K. 16/45 Recording of the Week 17/90 News Summary, Chatbook 17/45 The Musical World 18/00 Radio Newsreet 18/15 Ouestians of Faith 18/45 Kines of Swing 19/00 World News 19/15 Omnibus 19/30 Performing Earls Musica 20/10 Commentary 20/13 Early Music 20:09 Commentary 20:13 Drama Serial 20:30 Open Down Poh cies 20:15 The History of Radio Com-edy 20:40 Book Choice 20:50 Sports

VOICE OF AMERICA

WHAT'S GOING ON

TODAY'S EVENTS

EXHIBITIONS An art exhibition entitled "France in the 20th Century" at the French Cultural Centre (until Oct. 29). Tabbal at Housing Bank Complex (un-nl Nov. 21).

and fitness, sports and physical educa-tion at the American Centre (until Oct. Indian photo exhibition at the University of Jordan runnil Oct. 291.

2 An exhibition of books on health

FILM

CULTURAL CENTRES Royal Cultural Centre . Tel. 661026-7 Goethe Institute ...... 641993 Soviet Cultural Centre ....... 644203 Haya Arts Centre 665195
Hussem Youth City 667181/6
Y.W.C.A. 641795
Y.W.M.A. 664251

MUSEUMS

"Children's Heritage and Science

Museum" Fun and knowledge for all ages, plus a small planetarium at the Hava Arts Centic. Open all week 94M a.m. 1:00 p.m. and 3.30 p.m. 6:00 p.m. Closed on Friday.

Folklore Museum: Jewelry and costumes over 10H years old. Also mosares from Maches and learnth 44th to 18th.

from Madaba and Jerash (4th to 18th centuries). The Roman Theatre. Amman. Opening bours: 9.10 a.m.-5 p.m. Year-round. Tel. 651760.

Jurdan Archaeological Museum: Has an evellent collection of the anti-quiries of Jordan, Jabal Al Qal'a (Crtadel Hill), Opening hours: 9,00 a.m.-5,10 p.m. (Fridays and official holidays 10,00 a.m. to 4,00 p.m.), Chised Tuesdays.

SERVICE CLUBS

The Amman Lions Club. Meetings every first and third Wednesday at the Regency Palace Hotel. 7:30 p.m. Lions Philadelphia Club. Meetings every second and lourh Wednesday at the Ammon Hotel. 7:30 p.m. Philadelphia Rotary Club. Meetings every Wednesday at the Holiday Inn. 1:30 p.m. Rotary Club. Meetings every Tuesday at the Intercontinental Hotel. 2:00 at the intercontinental Hotel, 2.00

> Automobile Club, Jabal Am-Eighth Circle Tel. 816534. CHURCHES

817534.

St. Joseph Church | Roman Catholic) Jabal Amman, Tel 624590. Church of the Amunciation (Roman Catholics Jabal Luweibdeh, Tel. De la Salle Church (Roman Catholic Jabal Husseim, Tel. to1757. Terrasanta Church (Roman Catholic]. Jabal Luweibdeh, mass in Italian lan-guage, meet every Saturday ar 5:30 p.m. Tel: p22366 Church of the Annonciation (Greek Orthodox) Abdali, Tel. 623541. Anglican Church (Church of the Re-decmer) Jahal Amman, Tel. 625383. Armenian Catholic Church Ashrafich.

strict. Tel. 775261.
St. Ephraim Cburch (Svrian Orthodox) Ashrafich. Tel. 771751.
Amman International Church (Interdenominational): meets at Southern Baptist School in Shmeisani. Tel. 877531.

Aqaba (KJ)
Kuwaji (RJ)
Jeddah (RJ)
Doba, Bahrain (RJ)
Dubai, Abu Dhabi (RJ)
Los Angeles. Chicago, Vienna
(RJ)
Cairo (RJ)
New York, Vienna (RJ)
Paris. Brussels (RJ1
Copenhagen, Frankfun (RJ)
lstanbul (RJ)
Tripoli (RJ)

O I M	EN FLIGHTS (Ternunal 2
L3: .$ 0	Bucharest JR Muscal Doha (G
3:30	Muscal. Doha (C
14:20	Moscow j$
4:35	Kuwait IK
ts:45	Tripoli (L Riyadh (S
7:35	Cairo (N
	Rome   A
19:1S	Duhai /F
21: 10	Zurich, Larnaca 15
lt:25	London. Cairo (B Editori. Caro (B
DEP.	RTURES

WEATHER

atc an	d calm sea.
{	Min. max. tem
( Amma	n 12 /
V Vdaos	187
Desert	5 10/.
) Jordan	Valley t81
Yester	day's high temperatures: Ar

USEFUL TELEPHONE NOS. EMERGENCIES

| 78.03 | Civil Defence rescue | 661111 | Fire headquarters | 622090-3 | Police rescue | 192, 621111, 637777 | Police headquarters | 639141

HOSPITALS

HOSETTAL	•
Hussein Medical Centre Khalidi Maternity. J. Amn. Akilch Maternity. J. Amn. Jabal Amman Maternity	644281/6 642441/2
Malhas, J. Amman Palestine, Shmeisani Shmeisani Hospital University Hospital	636140 . 664171/4 669131
The Islamic, Abdali Al-Ahli, Abdali	667227/4 . 666127/37 664164/6
IIalian, Al-Muhajreen Al-Bashir, J. Ashrafieh Army, Marka Queen Alia Hospital	777101:3 . 775111/26 .891611/15
Amal Hospital	674155

Cepair service	11
NIGHT DUTY
AMAIAN; Dr. Yousel Smeirar Dr. A. Abu Khalaf Dr. Yousel Smour Dr. Mohammad Abu Mahliouz Tras pharmacy Terdows pharmacy Al Asema pharmacy Nairoukh pharmacy	663552 615648 793344 661912 787336 637055 623672
TAXIS:

ZARQA: Dr. A. Khashashi .... Аталі рһагтасу ..

Ammun taxi .....

Tamer taxi

Raghdan taxi

Savel laxi ....

MARKET PRICES

Lipper/lower price in fils per kg   Apple   dalferent kinds   301 / 250   Apple (French)   400 / 350   350	Guava Lemon Mallow Marrow Olive Onfon (dry) Okra Oranges [Abu Surra] Pepper (hot) Pepper (sweet) Polato Pomegranates Raddish Spinach Sweetmelon Tomaloes Watermelon	130 / 80 80 / 50 180 / 120 140 / 120 520 / 400 270 / 300 140 / 100 120 / 300 150 / 300 150 / 100 170 / 120
--	---	--

as inadequate or irrelevant.

Mr. Khalaf is second in command to Yasser Arafat in the task force in the Gulf to protect shipping from Iranian attack.

Monday.

GENERAL

Jordan Television	773111/
Radio Jordan	774111
Ministry of Tourism	6423
Hotel complaints	0004
Price complaints	6 611'
Telephone Information
Telephone Information Jordan and Middle East ca	lls
POLODII BIIG MIGGIC CASI CI	1127

NIGHT DUTY
AAIMAN; Dr. Yousel Smeirat 82 Dr. A. Abu Khalaf 66 Dr. Yousel Smour 61 Dr. Mohammad Abu Mahlouz 79 Firas pharmacy 60 Ferdows pharmacy 78 Al Asema pharmacy 63 Nairoukh pharmacy 63 Al Salam pharmacy 63	3552 5648 3344 1912 7336 7055 3672
TAXIS: Kayyali taxi 63	h730

842474

983024

lower price in fils per kg. crent kinds) 300 / 250 nch) 400 / 350 ukommart 300 / 340 ukommart 300 / 340 120 / 80 120 / 80 200 / 160 350 / 300 arget 90 / 30 mall) 150 / 100 400 / 350 450 / 350 ritet 250 / 240 eck) 280 / 240	Guava Lemon Mallow Marrow Olive Onion (dry) Okra Oranges [Abu Surra] Pepper (hot) Pepper (sweet) Potato Pomegranates Raddish Spinach Sweetmelon Tomaloes Watermelon	130 / 80 80 / 50 80 / 120 420 / 350 140 / 100 520 / 400 270 / 200 140 / 100 120 / 80 120 / 300 150 / 100 170 / 128 160 / 70
		1207

Liechtenstein's crown prince honoured at Yarmouk University

IRBID (Petra) - Prince. Hans Adam, Liechtenstein's crown prince, on Monday visited Yarmouk University in Irbid.

He was received by University President Mohammad Hamdan, University Vice-President Awad Khleifat and faculty deans. Dr. Hamdan briefed Prince Hans on the university's development and future plans.

Prince Hans attended a ceremony in his honour hosted by the university, during which Dr. Hamdan presented him the Yarmouk University shield. In addition, he presented the university medal to members of the prince's accompanying delegation.

Prince Hans, an expert on antiquities, also visited the university's natural history museum and the Institute of Archaeology and Anthropology. He was briefed by its director. Dr. Mu'aweya Ibrahim, on the institute's programmes and arcbaeological excavations currently being carried out throughout the country.

Earlier in the day, Prince Hans visited the historical city of Jerash. He was accompanied on the visit by the Department of Antiquities Director-General Dr. Adnan Al Hadidi.

Prince Hans arrived here on Sunday for a five-day visit upon the invitation of His Royal High-

Economic delegation in Denmark for trade talks

economic delegation left Monday for Denmark on a visit expected to last several days. The delegation will meet with Danish officials to discuss economic cooperation and trade between the

The delegation will tour a number of industrial and commercial which is in response to an invitation by the Danish Union of Industry and Trade.

The Jordanian delegation is comprised of representatives from the Amman chambers of industry and trade and the Federation of Jordanian Chambers of

VTC offers training to Eritrean students

'tional Training Corporation (VTC) will offer training to students from Eritrea at various VTC centres in the Kingdom, according to a decision taken by the corporation's board of direc-

Meeting under the chair-manship of Minister of Labour and Social Development Khaled Haj Hassan, the board said that the decision was made in response to a request by the International Labour Organisation

The board also decided to launch cooperation in vocational

Yemen, in response to requests from the two countries and from the World Bank, the United Nations Development Programme (UNDP) and the Amman-based regional centre of the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organisation (UN-ESCO), according to a VTC

The spokesman noted that these requests were made so that these countries and organisations can benefit from advanced course and expertise offered by the VTC.

RSS meeting discusses projected chemical plant

AMMAN (J.T.) — A meeting was held at the Royal Scientific Society (RSS) to discuss the implementation of an industrial chemicals plant near the Dead Sea.

Omar Abdullah, director of the Jordanian Industrial Consortium Engineering Company (JICECO) presented a review about the projected plant and the prospect of utilising phosphate and minerals from the Dead Sea in the plant's functions.

The meeting discussed the pro-ject's technical plans and other matters related to the projected plants, which will be located near the Arab Potash Company's instiallations near the southern up of the Dead Sea.

By Jordan Times

Staff Reporters

AMN AN — Working sessions of the fourth international conference entitled "The History of Greater Syria" continued on Sunday afternoon and Monday, in line with the conference's goal of probing the distortions of Middle East history and rectifying them

Thirty-six Arab and Western

Middle East specialists in the history of Greater Syria during the Umayyad period are in Jordan to attend the six-day conference and to present their papers viewed working papers presented by researchers from Damascus

University, the American University of Beirut (AUB), Al Na-

jah University and Kuwait Uni-

The paper by Dr. Najda Khammash of Damascus University dealt with the administrative divisions of Bilad Al Shaam, which included Palestine, Jordan,

Damascus, Homs and Qansarin.

by Dr. Nicola Ziyadeh and detailed the military and civilian administrative divisions of Bilad

Al Shaam before and after the Islamic era. In addition, the paper addressed the importance

The AUB paper was submitted

On Monday the conference re-accordingly.

on this subject.

fat Tamimi and other senior RSS officials, as well as representatives of the University of Jordan. Yarmouk University. Jordan University of Science and Technology and the Higher Council for Science and Technology.

The meeting at the RSS came in the wake of another chaired by His Royal Highness Crown Prince Hassan on Oct. 19, when Mr. Abdullah announced that plans have been laid for the project to become operational in two vears time. Mr. Abdullah said that the projected plant will be employing local raw materials including Jordanian phosphates.

by the Umayyad rulers.

The first paper presented on Sunday afternoon was by England's Alastair Northedge and was entitled "The Umayyad Mosoue in Amman." Although the remains of the mosque have disappeared. Dr. Northedge was able to compile historical facts on the building based on evidence accumulated by a survey conducted in 1881 by the Palestine

butler of the Princeton archaeological expedition to Syria, who visited Amman in

The researchers' descriptions.

along with drawings, an inscription and a number of photographs from the period 1867 to and 1922. have, subsequently,

shed some light on the Umayyad cated where the Al Husseini Mosque has been built, was the largest Umayyad mosque known in Jordan. Although the mosque was reconstructed several times,

there are some characteristics present in the evidence which was a rectangular building en-

As the mosque stood in 1881, it point to the Umayyad period.

The mosque, which was lo-period, as well.

Attending the meeting were Dr. Adnan Badran and Dr. Aracloud seeding to induce rainfall AMMAN (J.T.) — The Cabinet on Monday announced its approval of an agreement with an approval of an agreement with an on Monday announced its announcement.

approval of an agreement with an American company for cloud seeding to induce rain in Jordan, which will be carried out in cooperation with the Department of Meteorology. The agreement provides for a

Her Majesty Queen Noor consoles a sick child during her visit to Al Iman Hospital in Ajloun on Monday. The Queen also visited a nearby youth

By Rania Atalla

Special to the Jordan Times

AJLOUN — Her Majesty Queen

Noor on Monday toured a hospital in Ajloun, inspected a nearby youth camp and was acquainted with the development of the two facilities in this northern city.

During her tour of Al Iman Hospital, the Queen spoke to patients and inquired about their health. She was also briefed about the services and facilities the hospital provides for the inhabi-

Al Iman Hospital, which has a capacity of 71 beds, was purchased by the government in March. It was previously owned and run by the Southern Baptist

Under the previous administration, the Baptist Hospital, as it was called at the time, had a 35 per cent occupancy rate. However, since it started operating as a government establishment, the hospital's workload increased

five-fold and the number of beds was raised by 41. According to hospital director Dr. Hasan

Shawesh, the ministry will soon provide the hospital with an additional x-ray machine and another x-ray specialist.

tants of the area.

team from the American company to visit Amman between November 1987 and April 1988. The project will cost $500,000, which will be covered in equal

Cabinet approves agreement for

Queen Noor tours hospital and youth camp in Ajloun

Dr. John Roper, a general surgeon working at the hospital for the past 30 years, said that the previous administration decided to sell the hospital to the government because of "the high oper-

We were seriously looking for someone to operate the hospital, because we could not provide the needed quality of medical service. We were concerned that the hospital should continue providing medical services to people in the area," Dr. Roper said.

"We were very happy that the ministry took it over, because they have the resources needed to run it," he added.

The $1.5 million are now

rechannelled by the Baptist Mission to finance other projects in

The government's decision to buy the hospital came as part of efforts by the Ministry of Health to expand medical services in the Kingdom and to open hospitals in areas where certain medical ser-

Ailoun and Amman.

It said that several successful experiments on inducing rain in Jordan were conducted during the 1986-1987 winter season in a number of hilly regions. The experiments were conducted with the aid of special aircraft and through ground centres, which disperse chemical substances into the atmosphere, particularly in parts by the Meteorological De-partment and the Ministry of that fell in Jordan are expected to voir behind the King Talal Dam, thus raising the total amount of water in the lake to 21 million cubic metres. Studies conducted by the JVA report that the lake behind the dam can contain up to 80 million cubic metres of water, now that the raising of the walls water-laden clouds. around the lake to 108 metres has been completed, according to the vices were lacking. According to the Ministry of Health, the ori-

camp, where she commended the children's efforts

new hospital in Ajloun, but the Baptist Hospital was offered for sale at a price that saved the treasury JD 3.5 million.

Health Minister Zaid Hamzeh.

people who previously had to go to Irbid for free treatment." The hospital now serves a population

Noor visited an international youth camp in the area and was briefed about its activities and goals. The Queen talked to the participants in the camp, who were cleaning the premises as part of a campaign to improve the

see the young people working in this camp and cleaning sites visited by tourists. This is an example of cleanliness and care by members of the community,

Also accompanying Her Majesty on the visit were Irbid

Governor Akram Nasser, Ajloun

District Governor Monammad Talhouni and Ajloun District

at least 13 million cubic metres of water have poured into the reser-

Her Majesty said.

environment. "It is inspiring to

After the bospital tour, Queen of nearly 85,000.

to improve their surroundings (Petra photo)

ating costs, the low patient occupancy and the lack of personnel to replace those who were retiring." The hospital was sold to the government at U.S. $1.5 million spokesman. Greater Syria conference papers cover findings on Umayyad era

The anefacts recovered from from the Umayyad through the Fatimid periods. During this occupation, and particularly in dicate participation in an extensive trade network connecting

Dr. Whitcome postulates that Agaba the Umayyad's built was smaller in response to a new set of concepts of what a town should be. The Islamic town of Aqaba is of the Late Byzantine city and the new Muslim attitudes towards contemporary source for historic-al details on the province and the caliphate, said Dr. Bates, adding

U.S., Michael L. Bates, delivered a paper on "Coinage of Umayyad Syria." The Coinage of Umayyad

In his study, Dr. Bates divided the coinage of Umayyad Syria into three phases, each including cold, silver, and copper coins. The first phase, from 72 to 74 Hijri, was described as the "imperial images" period, because the coins have depictions of emperors and religious images adapted or copied from the coinage of the preceding Byzantine and Sassa-

Phase two, from 74 to 77 Hijri, is that of Arab images, when Arab Muslim images were substituted for foreign ones. The principal Arab image used in Syria at this time was the caliph himself standing, girt with his sword. On these two phases, Dr. Bates said that there was, at each mint, only one main variety of the imperial image: the standing emperor at Damascus. three standing figures proportionately few in number and probably reflect a period of

Prince Hassan chairs meeting to review remote sensing in exploring for water resources

AMMAN (J.T.) — His Royal Highness Crown Prince Hassan on Monday chaired a meeting at the Ministry of Energy and Mineral Resources to review the work of a Norwegian company employed to conduct remote sensing in the exploration of underground water resources in the Wadi Araba region south of the Dead Sea.

Discussions during the meeting focused on coordinating the technical work of various government departments involved in monitor-departments involved in monitoring water supplies and in geological research in the Kingdom.

The meeting was attended by Minister of Energy and Mineral Resources Hisham Khatib, Royal Scientific Society (RSS) President Jawad Al Anani, director-general of the Natural Resources Authority (NRA) Kamal Inveisat and ity (NRA) Kamal Jureisat and director-general of the Royal Jordanian Geographic Centre (RJGC) Ra fat Al Majali as well as a number of technicians and

The meeting occurred as a symposium on the application of re-mote sensing ended at the RJGC in Amman.

According to Mr. Majali, participants from 18 Arab and foreign countries stressed the need for the establishment of a pan-Arab union for aerial survey and remote sensing that can coordinate work between Arab and foreign organisations and the International Society for Photogrammetry and Remote Sensing (ISPRS). The participants emphasised the importance of the various applications of remote sensing and

Addressing the final session of the symposium, Mr. Majali paid tribute to the Norwegian company for its efforts in exploring for water resources in Jordan employing remote sensing techniques. He said that the equipment used in this process had explored areas some 50 metres under-the need to hold training courses on these functions.

During the symposium, several working papers were reviewed. focusing on environmental scien- rious consequences.

tion, as well as exploration of water and mineral resources through remote sensing.

Mr. Majali, in his speech at the opening session of the symposium, which was held under the patronage of Prince Hassan, said that remote sensing means testing things from remote locations using photos of the earth taken from the sky at different alti-tudes. He noted that satellites have contributed to discovering natural resources through surveys and updating maps.

The symposium concentrated on remote sensing in exploring natural resources and, particularly, in searching for water in Jordan, according to Mr. Majali.

Dr. Khatib, who deputised for the Crown Prince in opening the symposium, outlined the importance of remote sensing as a means for discovering natural resources. He said that the technique was useful for pinpointing the sites where water, natural resources and minerals are hidden underground so that they can be tapped. Remote sensing, he said, can also be a tool for predicting natural disasters, thereby enabling authorities to avert their se-

Haj Hassan denies BBC report on

Work permits

AMMAN (J.T.) — Minister of Labour and Social Development
Khaled Haj Hassan on Monday denied a report by the British Broadcasting Corporation (BBC) that Jordan bas stopped issuing work permits to foreign workers.

In a statement to the Jordan

News Agency, Petra, the minister said that the report broadcast Monday morning was groundless because no such decision has been taken. Jordan continues to employ non-Jordanian workers and will continue to do so "within the country's needs and requirements and in accordance to Jordanian laws and regulations,"

Mr. Hai Hassan said. He said that non-Jordanian workers enjoy appreciation and respect in this country and are treated on equal footing with Jordanian workers.

The minister told a press conference in Amman on Sunday that a decision was taken last January to stop issuing work permits for certain workers for wbom there are Jordanian substitutes. He said that the ministry was now issuing permits to workers in agriculture and a few other

According to Mr. Haj Hassan, about 80,000 Egyptian and Syrian nationals are believed to be living in Jordan in violation of laws and probably working without any work permits. He said that his ministry was in the process of deporting these violators. jects on the agenda and paid

Finnish parliamentarians briefed at Foreign Ministry AMMAN (J.T.) - Secretary- dan's stand on the region's issues,

General of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs Nabih Al Nimer on Monday met with a Finnish parliamentary team currently visiting Jordan as part of a tour in the Middle East.

During the meeting, Mr. Nim-er reviewed with the Finnish lawmakers recent developments in the region, including the Iran-Iraq war, the situation in the Gulf, the Arab-Israeli conflict and the Lebanese crisis. Mr. Nimer also explained Joras well as efforts to stop the Iran-Iraq war and to find a just and durable solution for the Palestine problem through the convening of an international peace conference.

Mr. Nimer added that His Majesty King Hussein's recent state visit to Finland has bolstered bilateral relations on all levels. The King recently ended a four-day state visit to Finland. where he met with members of the Finnish parliament.

Business administration panel reviews papers

AMMAN (J.T.) — A symposium on the work of the departments of business administration in Arab universities, currently being held at the University of Jordan, on Monday reviewed four working papers by delegates from the universities of Mosul in Iraq. King Abdul Aziz in Saudi Arabia. Mu'ta University of Jordan and Al Najah University in the occupied West Bank.

Mahmoud Al Samra, vice-president of the University of Jordan addressed the opening session on behalf of the university's president, Abdul Salam Al Majali. Dr. Samra underlined the sub-tribute to the Association of Arab Universities (AAU), which orga-

The symposium was opened on Sunday with the participation of delegates from 14 Arab universinised the meeting.

He then referred to the role which these departments can play in promoting administration and management in the Arab World.

The opening session was also addressed by Dr. Mohammad Majid Said. AAU assistant secretary-general, who spoke about the association's programmes, which include annual seminars and meetings to belp promote cooperation among Arab uni-.

The first session was attended by the director-general of the Amman-based Arab Organisation of Administrative Sciences and deans of faculties at the University of Jordan.

The Delegation of the Commission of the European Communities in the Hashemite Kingdom of Jordan announces with deep regret the sudden death in Amman of

DR. ROMANO LANTINI HEAD OF THE DELEGATION

On Monday, 26 October 1987

A memorial service will be held at the Chapel of the Italian Hospital on Wednesday, 28 October 1987, at 1600hrs. A register of condolences will be open at the Delegation from Tuesday, 27 October to Thursday, 29 October, between the hours of 10:00 a.m. and 1:00

IN MEMORIAM

Dr. Romano Lantini was born in Rome, Italy in 1933. After graduating in architecture he specialised in industrial consultancy for projects in developing countries. Joining the Commission of the European Communities in 1973, he was appointed Delegate to the Central African

In 1976, Dr. Lantini returned to Commission headquarters in Brussels as Head of Division for West Africa Affairs, serving for three years during the period of the first Lome Convention, which concerned development aid to African, Carlbbean and Pacific countries; for a further period he was concerned with the application and implementation of the second Lome Convention, in the social infrastructure and urbanisation sectors.

Appointed Delegate to the Commission of the European Communities in the Hashemite Kingdom of Jordan in 1984, Dr. Lantini applied himself to promoting cooperation between the Communities and the Kingdom. At his untimely death, he was in the process of elaborating, with the Jordanian authorities, new aspects of cooperation for the next five-year

In his social and personal relationships, Dr. Lantini was well-known for his warmth and Intelligence. Dr. Lantini was married and is survived by his wife, Juanita, two sons and a

. هِكَذَا حَسَدُ لِلْهُ صِلْ

as Jerusalem. Syria occurred during the era of The research paper from Al dows and doors with lintel and cago began salvage excavations. Najah University in the occupied round relieving arches is found in Dr. Whitcome said. Two major the invention of Islamic coinage. West Bank town of Nablus de-Umayvad religious architecture." excavations have revealed a num-Therefore, it can be used as a which Umayyad caliphs attached to major cities in Palestine, such flat segmental arch. "The combination of round, arched win-ited States. tered by three gates in the north wall. The two flanking entrances had stilted semi-circular arches; the western one had a lintel and picted the land taxation imposed said Dr. Northedge. The mosque's well-laid ashlar limestone masonry is also typically Umayyad, he said, adding that these features suggest the Early Umayyad period rather than the later period. Dr. Northedge notes that a city's mosque can be an indicator of population changes. "Mosques were often rebuilt to accommodate larger congregations." he said. Therefore, Amman — the Exploration Fund and by H.C. seat of the governor of the Balqa and the main centre of Jordan during the Umayyad period would obviously have the largest Umayyad mosque. After the end of the Umayyad period, the mosque provides evidence of a population decline, as only a smaller building was required when the mosque was rebuilt.

The purpose of another working paper on "Evidence of the Umayyad Period from the Aqaba Excavations" was to investigate an aspect of Islamic history, specifically the role of Aqaba in the commercial network of the Indian Ocean and the interrelation of this port with the urhan centres of Egypt. Palestine and Jordan in the Islamic period, particularly during the Umayyad period, said Donald Whitcome from the Un-

For the last 50 years, little attention has been paid to the ruins in the heart of Aqaba. In the spring of 1986, the Oriental Institute of the University of Chi-ber of architectural features of the city. According to Dr. Whitcome one of the most important results of this excavation, which was completed in Spring 1987, was the evidence for the foundation of the Islamic city of Aqaba. Umayyad levels were usually encountered between 3 and 4.5 metres beneath the surface of the earth and beneath successive Abbasid and Fatimid layers. Over 80 metres of the city wall, with four towers and the northwest city gate, were uncovered.

the excavations show a continuous occupation from the 7th century to the early 12th century, the Abbasid period, ceramics in-Egypt and Syria with Iraq and unlike Roman building, the a combination of the experience urbanism, he said.

Another colleague from the

that the history of coins them-selves must first be understood.

nian empires.

at Tabariyya, an imperial bust at Homs and Tartus, and two standing figures at Ba'albek. There were one or two other varieties at tbe larger mints, but they are initial improvisation, he con-

The third phase, from 77 to 132. Hijri (end of the Umayyad Caliphate), is that of the Islamic inscriptional coinage, where only religious inscriptions in Arabic

Jordan Times

Chairman of the Board of Directors:

MAHMOUD AL KAYED Responsible Editor and Director General: MOHAMMAD AMAD

Editor-in-Chief:

GEORGE S. HAWATMEH Editorial and advertising offices:

Jordan Press Foundation,

University Road, P.O. Box 6710, Amman, Jordan.

Telephones: 667171-6, 670141-4 Telex: 21497 ALRAI JO Facsimile: 661242

The Jordan Times is published daily except Fridays: Subscription and advertising rates are available from the Jordan Times advertising department.

Second to None

THE PASSAGE in the U.S. Senate of a resolution condemning a United Nations resolution which equales Zionism with racism is hardly surprising. The Senate's condemnation of the U.N. resolution. which exposed the true face of Zionism, is only another manifestation of the power and influence that the Zionist lobby wields over the American lawmakers, who make it a point to dance to Zionist tunes before and after running for office.

It is of no consequence to us how the American Congress bends backwards to please Israel, especially noting that the Senate's vote coincided with the planned visit to Washington by the Israeli president, Chaim Herzog. None of the countries that worked to get the U.N. document endorsed by the world community in 1975 now stands in need of a gesture by the American Senate to change their convictions based on reality and bitter experience. On the contrary, a small reminder pointing the nose of American senators to Israeli racial practices should be more than enough of a response, not to speak of the gross racial oppression and segregation that the Jewish state practises against its own Arah citizens, who constitute about 20 per cent of its population. Notwithstanding the hollowness of the U.S. Senate's vote as far as the central theme — whether Zionism is racism or not — is concerned, the world community should now be aware of the next item on the agenda of the sponsors of the condemnation of the U.N. resolution: to influence, coerce, blackmail or pressure the General Assembly into overturning the document. That is the ultimate gift that Senator Daniel Patrick Moynihan, who is spearheading the campaign, appears to have in mind for Herzog when the Israeli president arrives in Washington on Nov. 10. Moynihan, who served as U.S. ambassador to the U.N. with Herzog as Israel's delegate to the world body when the resolution was adopted, seems to have undertaken a personal crusade to avenge his defeat 12 years ago. We do not yet know how Moynihan and company would go about nudging the Reagan administration into unleashing the campaign in the General Assembly in time before Herzog's visit, but we do know that the U.S. stands little chance of success against the overwhelming majority in the world community of nations against any move to placate Israel — the one U.N. member which has repeatedly sought to. prove that its defiance to international will and consensus is second to

ARABIC PRESS EDITORIALS

Al Ra i: Shultz succeeds

THE recent tour of the Middle East and the Soviet Union by U.S. Secretary of State George Shultz has been described by observers as Middle East in that he helped to maintain the obstacles which still obstruct the peace process, and has blocked the convening of an international conference to achieve peace in our region. Shultz has endorsed Israel's official stand which rejects the idea of the conference and which calls for direct negotiations between Israel and each of the Arab states. Israel wants to obstruct the implementation of Security Council resolution on this particular issue. On the other hand. Shultz has failed in convincing the Arab countries to change their positions and introduce a change in the framework of the international conference itself, and to justify this result, he accused Moscow of encouraging the Arabs to stick to their stand. In the views of Washington and Israel Shultz's mission was successful because he succeeded in obstructing the peace process and in freezing it. But the U.S. failure to give momentum to the peace process in our region and Israel's continued intransigence and its rejection of the idea of an international conference, and also Shultz's failure in his talks with Soviet leaders on world issues including the Middle East should be regarded as a dangerous thing and does not augur well for stability and peace in our region.

Al Dustour: Algeria campaigns for summit success

A visit to Jordan made by Algerian Foreign Minister Ahmad Al Ibrahimi and his meetings with King Hussein and Jordanian officials was intended to pave the way for a successful Arab summit in Amman next month. Algeria which assumes an important position within the Arab community and which has wide influence throughout the Arab World, is bound to play a leading role not only in the preparations for the summit but also at the summit meeting itself. The Algerian officials are attaching hope to this summit and we hope that they will be able to bring about harmony among Arab leaders and fuse their joint action against the common enemics of the the Arab World, Mr. Ibrahimi's visit to Jordan comes amidst escalating developments in the Gulf region, and as the Arab leaders make ready for their meeting in Amman where they will try to chart a pan-Arab strategy for the future. We look to Algeria's contribution to the preparations for a successful summit with hope and consider it as complementary to Jordan's efforts to rally the Arabs and pool their resources to achieve solidarity. The serious events in the Arab region and the dangerous developments the Gulf is facing at the moment should help pave the way for a serious meeting in Amman next month and a fruitful gathering by Arab heads of state, determined to serve their own interests and to safeguard the rights of the Arah

Sawt Al Shaab: Algeria supports Jordan's efforts

ALGERIA on Sunday extended support for Jordan's efforts in rallying the Arabs and convening an Arab summit in Amman next month. Algeria's Foreign Minister Ahmad Al Ihrahimi paid tribute to King Hussein and the efforts of the Jordanian government and people for supporting Algeria in its struggle for independence and also for the current efforts to unite Arab ranks. Dr. Ibrahimi's visit to Jordan and his meetings with the King and Foreign Minister Taher Al Masri reflect an appreciation by Algiers for this country's endeavours and complements Jordan's task in its preparations for a successful summit meeting next mon.h. Dr. Ihrahimi was careful to say that the coming summit will be dedicated to discussions on the Gulf issue as well as the Arab-Isracii conflict and other issues plaguing the Arab Nation. Dr. Ihrahimt's visit to Amman on Sunday will no doubt give a boosting to Jordan's efforts in healing the rifts within the Arah ranks and creating an opportune climate for constructive results.

The faction within Iran's leadership

By Scheherazade Daneshkhu

moderate faction within the Ira-Weinberger commented at the erate factions with whom the Iran. For many U.S. officials, "moderates" in the Third World date the U.S., or a readiness to exercise their influence in its interests. It is not surprising that since Irangate broke, much has been said about moderates and radicals yet little revealed about the nature of the factionalism which exists within Iran. The policy differences do not necescentral cleavage, with the moderates lining up on one side and the radicals along the other. An Iranian policy-maker can be a moderate on one issue and a radical on another. or three years a discernible group has emerged in Iran which is less radical overall in the main policy areas. Iranians themselves pose the distinction in terms of radicals who have been gaining the upper hand politically, though in recent months they have suffered serelationship it has managed to establish with large sections of the population. This has taken the form of an implicit understanding regarding the very existence of the Islamic Republic.

Should this faction come to power it would normalise relations with the rest of the world wishes of the bazaaris and the been reached. Pastoral land

WHEN the Irangate affair sur- middle class, by encouraging faced in November 1986, Presi-trade and relaxing state interferdent Reagan insisted that his poli- ence on matters such as dress and cy of selling arms to Iran had even drink and gambling. In the been aimed at strengthening the past few years, privacy has been accorded greater respect than benian government. As such, he fore, with many un-Islamic activiargued, it had been both legiti- ties being tolerated, so long as mate and logical. By contrast, they are confined to the home. In. Defence Secretary Casper return, those sections of society which have resisted the existence time that he had o idea why some of the Islamic Republic would U.S. officials believed that mod-finally accept it as Iran's political system and agree to work within U.S. could deal existed within its framework. By so doing, they. would, once and for all, agree to turn their backs on the past and are distinguished by little more on the impossible dream of a than a willingness to accommo- saviour in the form of a liberal or monarchist government.

The difference in outlook between the "radicals" and the

"moderates" (for want of a better terminology), can clearly be seen within four major policy areas, those of the economy, domestic politics, foreign policy and the war with Iraq. The clearest policy sarily fall conveniently about a differences have been in the economy, with the radicals demanding nationalisation of foreign trade and industry, and strict government control of the private sector. Initially, they were fairly successful in getting their way on Nevertheless, over the past two foreign trade, and managed to increase the role of government controlled co-operatives by pntting them in charge of the allocation of raw materials to those factories which survived the postin the government (tundro) and revolution nationalisation prog-"the others". It is these others ramme. The radicals have also been the main force behind the programme of food rationing which began at the start of the rious setbacks and their infinence Gulf war. The moderates, while is waning. The importance of this less bard-bne faction lies in the are in favour of encouraging the private sector and providing loans to private companies. The "moderate" best known to the West, Hojatoleslam Rafsanjani, is in fact a quasi-radical on economic

Another important debate revolves around the question of land ownership where, on rural and accommodate some of the land at least, a compromise has now belongs to the government and is let out to cattle breeders.

The slogan for farm land is that it Hashemi, the leader of the World belongs to those who cultivate it. Effectively, this has signalled the final demise of a "feudal" landowning class. Instead, agricultural ownership is either in the form of small peasant holdings or large modernised farms. An acceptable policy on urban land has yet to be worked out. As there is no stock market in Iran, urban property has long been the main source of wealth creation and investment for the rich. In the past two years, the radicals have been trying hard to facilitate the purchase of inner city land by the government at well below market rates. Last year, the Mailis passed a bill on this issue, proposed by the prime minister, Mr. Moussavi, who sides with the radicals on most issues. It was vetoed by the Council of Guardians, the representatives of the grand ayatollahs whose job it is to ensure that new laws are consistent with the constitution and Islamic law. The bill was reintroduced, in the Majlis, but failed to ensure the two-thirds majority needed to overrule the Council of Guardians. An animated debate took place, with Rafsanjani even calling on Ayatoliah Khomeini to abolish the Council of Guardians. In domestic politics, the difference between the two sides has been much less accentuated. Neither will tolerate groups wanting to work ontside the framework of the Islamic Republic, so both adopt a hard attitude towards monarchist or liberal opposition groups, and an even harsher stand against the armed left. But the radicals want to maintain the idea of permanent revolution and the army of 20 million while the moderates are in favour of normalising the domestic political situation and marking out a clearer division between private and public affairs. The moderates have been in the stronger position since 1985. At that time the radical Ayatollah Organisation of Islamic Liberation Movements and brother of Ayatollah Montazeri's son-inlaw, was imprisoned. He was executed on 28 September. This was a severe blow to the radicals. However, the balance of power has been changing in the past few months. The Islamic Republican party was abolished in June; it had been useful to the moderates as a means of furthering their influence. And, an independent organisation of moderate clerical leaders; the Jamei-e Rouhaniat-e Moharez was forced to disband. In addition, the commander of the Revolutionary Guards, Mr. Rezai, himself a moderate, was detained for 24 hours in connection with peace demonstrations held in Tehran last April. This extraordinary detention reflects the growing influence of the radicals led this time by the Minister for the Revolutionary Guards, Mr. Rafiq-Doost.

The most sensitive issue is the war with Iraq. Publicly almost all the leaders support the war effort and scorn at the idea of holding peace talks. Yet serious differences exist between the radical and other factions as to the conditions under which an end to the war would be possible. The modthe population is war-weary and would like to see a settlement. If they can pull one off, it would certainly be in their interests; this would form part of the understanding between themselves and the public. But the timing and conditions for such a settlement are crucial. Neither the moderates nor the radicals can contemplate negotiating with Iraqi President Saddam Hussein, but the former may be prepared to talk to a Ba'athist government without the president.

For the radicals, the war has the advantage of increasing the sense of permanent chaos within ideological commitment to the precedented step of relieving the principles on which the Republic was based. The fight against Iraq tion is marked by the need to justify its ideology to its own people. As such, the Iranian leaders have to show that their Islamic system is the best form of government and that it is universally applicable.

For the radicals, this bas meant an active policy of exporting the revolution, hy financing and even directing terrorist organisations most active in the Lebanon but they operate too in Afghanistan and in Europe. Broadly speaking, the moderates are in favour of a less active policy, preferring Iran to remain as only an example or inspiration to sympathetic groups outside the country. They have worked towards improving relations with Europe. Visits by highranking Iranian officials to European capitals, as well as the West German foreign minister's visit to Tehran, have been the direct outcome of their policy. The moderates, however, are being reluctant to extend such goodwill to the U.S., although last year they were obliged to in the course of the arms deal with the U.S. Within the country, it is the radicerates realise that the majority of als who are most closely associated with Iran's arms procurement policy. The decision to buy arms from the U.S. cannot have been taken without the approval. of Ayatollah Khomeini. The moderates would have been obliged to go along with the policy, in spite of their reserva-

In an orchestrated attempt to embarrass the radicals involved, the moderates arranged for Dr. Velayati, the foreign minister and himself a leading moderate, to be questioned by the Majlis on the issue of exactly who bought the arms and who was most closely involved with the Americans, But the country and beightening Ayatollah Khomeini took the un-foreign minister of his duty to respond. This action in defence of the radicals thwarted the attempt is part of the radicals' policy to to reveal their connection with export these ideals, a policy the the U.S. While the U.S. claimed moderates also adhere to, though to be opening a door to moderate in a different form. Iran's revolu- elements in the government through its policy of arms sales, it was inadvertantly reinforcing the position of the more radical forces. In any case, talks aimed at the release of U.S. hostages in the Lebanon would have had to he held with the radicals since it is they, and not the moderates, who are in charge of such operations. The recent and increasing influence of the radical position can ahroad. These organisations are also be seen in the successful sabotage of improved Iranian-European relations. There is a good deal of evidence to suggest that the beating up and arrest of a British diplomat in Tehran was undertaken without the prior knowledge of the Iranian foreign ministry: It indicates the growing power of the radicals in the security forces. A similar situation prevails at the Iranian embassy in Paris where Mr. Gordji, officially an interpreter, even though his French leaves much to be desired, refuses to be questioned in connection with the spate of bombings earlier in the year in the French capital.

In the attempt to gain the initiative from the moderates, the radicals have found a strange ally in the U.S. Troubled by the Iran-contra scandal, the Reagan administration is trying to win support at home by talking tough to the Iranians and building up its naval forces in the Gulf. The unintended effect of this is the radicalisation of the political atmosphere in Iran. Today, even moderates like Rafsanjani have no option but to appear as radical in order to win domestic support. After two years of gaining ground, the moderates are fast losing the struggle, while the hardline forces consolidate their position within the government. The hawks in America and the radicals in Iran are dancing a deadly tango - Middle East International, London.

groomed for bigger things

moved his son Nicu from the Ceausescu. ministry for youth problems in preparation for bigger things judgment on the overall cause of

The reports said Nicu Ceasusescu, who was also moved from the leadership of the Communist Youth Organisation, had been made governor of one of the country's 40 provinces, but that this was only a temporary move. On Oct. 13, an official statement said Nicu Ceausescu had been given tasks at party and state level" hut gave no details.

The 37-year-old son of the Romanian president, who is aged 69, has so far made a meteoric rise within the ranks of the country's Communist Party. He joined the central committee at the age of 32, was appointed youth minister a year later and became a candidate member of the polithuro at 34. Bucharest analysts said Nicu Ceausescu had the reputation of being something of a "playboy" and was known for his escapades. But among the three Ceausescu children - two sons and a daughter - Nicu is considered to bave the most promising political future.

The analysts said that if his appointment as provincial governor was confirmed it would only be provisional, while he familiarised himself with the power structure before moving on to pigger things. They also highlighted that he could not be expected to stay head of the Communist Youth Organisations, which under official regulations cannot be joined by anyone aged over 30.

The Ceausescu family is well epresented in the upper levels of the Romanian hierarchy, but till now the president's wife, Elena, aged 68, has had the most prominent public profile. Mrs. Ceausescu, who is first deputy prime minister and head of several state bodies, is considered the effective Number Two in the Romanian leadership. The situation, unique in the Eastern Bloc, has drawn the veiled criticism of Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev, who during a visit to Bucharest in May stressed the need to fight nepotism. Nicu Ceausescu's job change comes just weeks after the president ordered a series of reshuffles in the governments, which analysts said strengthened other members of the Ceausescu clan. Stefan Andrei, a former foreign

VIENNA - Romanian President minister and close associate of the Nicolae Ceausescu, whose family 'president, became deputy prime already has a strong grip on the minister, as did Lina Ciobanu, reins of power in his country, has who is known to be close to Mrs. East Bloc analysts reserved according to reports circulating in the reshuffle, which in four weeks saw 18 posts change hands within the government and central committee. They said it appeared to be part of an ongoing fight for position as Mr. Ceausescu carries out one of his periodic reshuffles to stop the creation of individual empires within the government. But Romania is experiencing severe economic difficulties and many of the changes have affected the energy sector, which for the past four years has been hit by a severe crisis that has seen industry and ordinary Romanians rationed to just a few hours of electricity and gas each day.

Analysts said they doubted the new appointments would change the situation. A state of emergency in the country's power plants imposed in October, 1985 is still in force with the whole system now under the command of the Romanian military - AFP

Ceausescu's 'playboy' son | NATO allies little concerned by lack of summit date

By Patrick Worsnip Reuter

BRUSSELS - Washington's disputes over the U.S. "Star NATO allies seem little concerned by the failure of U.S.-Soviet talks in Moscow last week to fix a date for a new superpower summit and are confident that the arms control process is still on we don't give a damn whether there's a summit or not," one alliance source said privately.

U.S. Secretary of State George Shultz got a round of applause from foreign ministers and top officials from his 15 fellow NATO states when he reported at alliance headquarters in Brussels on his talks with the Kremlin leaders.

West European officials said later they were encouraged that both Shultz and Soviet Foreign Minister Eduard Shevardnadze had said a treaty banning U.S. and Soviet medium-range missiles could be sewn up within a few weeks.

In Moscow, however, Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev said he would not go to a long-planned summit in the United States unless the two sides could also agree and space weapons.

Wars" programme. Shevardnadze said an intermediate-range nuclear forces (INF) treaty might have to be signed at a lower level - and Shultz said that, if the worst came to the worst, Washington might

British Foreign Secretary Sir Geoffrey Howe said the failure to agree on a summit date was disappointing. But, asked if an INF accord. be a step forward, he said: "Of course. If we achieve an objective on which NATO has been agreed for the last six years, I'm not going to cry in my beer."

Italian Foreign Minister Giulio Andreotti said: "There's no question of pessimism, especially as they're talking about a possible further summit in Moscow next spring."

U.S. officials appeared to accept the West Europeans' position. "I don't think they care as much about a summit as we do," one said. "They care about a

The Europeans bave vital in- need for a firm alliance position outlines of an accord on strategic terests at stake in the INF treaty, which would scrap more than > ranges between 500 and 5,000 Reagan. kilometres, most of them hased in Europe. Despite misgivings hy some NATO officials that the deal could weaken Western defences have lined up behind the United States and pointed to the benefits for East-West relations. If the treaty goes ahead, West Germany, Britain, Italy, Belgium and The Netherlands will be rid without a summit would of U.S. cruise and Pershing -2 missiles which began to be deployed in 1983. U.S. officials have said they want to go on with the still uncompleted deployment programme not just until the INF treaty is signed but until it is ratified by Congress. But Shultz told a Brussels news conference on Saturday that some countries might want to "take a position" after signature - an apparent acknowledgement that Belgium and The Netherlands might want to stop deployment there and then.

NATO officials stressed the and the need to prevent any attempt by Moscow to play the Both issues are still blocked by 1,000 U.S. and Soviet missiles of . Europeans off against President

"I think a good stiffening dose of cruise missile deployment in The Netherlands over the weekend would not come amiss," one said. The Nethetlands is not and loosen ties with Washington, due to start deploying until next West European governments уеаг.

NATO ministers were also alive to suggestions that Gorbachev might want to exploit European reservations over Star Wars. They replied guardedly when asked if they thought the programme was worth jeopardising the INF treaty. Some European officials feel the so-called Strategic Defence Initiative, for a partly spacebased shield against nuclear missiles, will not work. But ministers said they supported the American right to find out if it was feasible.

NATO officials could not explain why the Soviet Union, after earlier tying a new superpower summit to an INF deal, was now calling for further agreements as a precondition.

suppose this is endgame stuff," one said. "They must think Reagan's going to buckle.'

Take away is available Open daily 12:00-3:30 p.m. 6:30-Midnight Tel. 638968

MANDARIN Chinese Restaurant

The only typical Chinese cuisine in Amman. Chinese Flaming pol is available Take away available Open daily 12:00 - 15-30 18:00 - 23:30

Wadi Sagra Road - near Traffic Bridge Amman, Jordan Tel: 661922

RESTAURANT Mecca Street, Yarmouk Engineers' Housing Estate, near Kilo Supermarket

Mongolian Barbeque for Lunch Friday only Tel: 818214 Come and taste our specialities Open daily 12:00 - 3:30 p.m. 6:30 - Midnight

CROWN

INTERNATIONAL

ESTABLISHMENT

packing, shipping, storage, clearing.

door-to-door service

Agents all over the world Tel: 664090_660852 Tiz: 22205 BESMCO JO Cable: Nuscibehco. P.O. 80x 32447 AMMAN JORDAN

lorwarding, international moving.

TAIWAN TOURISMO Authentic Chinese Food Korean Bar-B-Q Charcoal Flaming Pot Take-away service Open daily Noon - 3:30 p.m. & 6:30 p.m. - midnight

Location: Near 3rd Circle opposite Akilah Hospital Tel: 641093

داراه ــــارا DAROTEL Tel: 668193 - Telex 23888 DAROTL - Fax 602434 Shmeisani - Amman

Luxuriously furnished studio apartments To Satisfy Good Taste

HOTEL ★ APARTOTEL ★ RESTAURANT

After France, exhibition introduces Jordan-Palestine culture to W. Germans

By Ara Voskian

The writer, a staff member of the Jordan Times, recently returned from Cologne, West Germany, after attending the opening of the exhibition. The King's Highway - 9000 years of art and culture in Jordan and Palestine.

THE MOST comprehensive display of Jordanian and Palestinian cultural history is currently being exhibited at the Rautenstrauch Joest Museum of Ethnology and Anthropology in Cologne, West Germany.

The twin exhibition entitled

"The King's Highway — 9000 years of art and culture in Jordan and Palestine" and "Splendor and Secret - Costumes and Jewellery from Jordan and Palestine" was officially inaugurated hy Her Majesty Queen Noor on Oct. 2, 1987.

The exhibition hrings together 400 of the most beaunful antiquities excavated in Jordan and Palestine with 172 colourfully embroidered Jordanian and Palestinian dresses from the collection of Mrs. Widad Kaawar and photographs of the historic sites by the Jordanian architect Ammar Khammash.

The King's Highway exhibition ncludes all the objects that were on display at the Luxembourg viuseum in Paris until January his year. Some of these objects vere recently unearthed during xcavations.

Made of stone, clay, ivory, ronze, iron, glass and gold, the shjects provide new insight into he eventful history of the area from the Palaeolithic era through the various periods of the Bronze and Iron Ages, the Hellenistic-Roman period, the Byzantine period to the early centuries of the Islamic era.

One of the prize exhibits is a delicate Iron Age case of ivory found in Pella only three years ago. It was a gift from Pharaoh Amenemhet IV to a Canaanite

The extremely fine pottery of the Nabataeans is on display along with small clay statues. Tools from a carpenter's shop at Gerasa (Jerash) and an oil mill from the Roman period give unusual insights into the working world of Roman artisans.

Among the most colourful objects are several Byzantine mosaics of the early Christian era with their vivid and realistic scenes. The incense hurner in the exhibition reminds us that the King's Highway was part of the old "incense road."

The ethnological exhibition "Splendor and Secrets" consists of folk costumes and jewellery from Jordan and Palestine, collected over 20 years by Mrs. Kaawar, is by far the largest and

By Julie Flint

BEIRUT — A small leftwing party, the Union of Leagues and Committees, recently wrote to the Mayor of Beirut, asking that he get the city's rubhish collected in the interests of public health.

leader received a telephone call from an irate west Beiruti.

"Don't you realise." he was told.

"that hundreds of people live off

The ruhhish, and the people who live off it, are today a feature of almost every street in west

Beirut, a constant reminder both nf the perilous state of public services and the headlong impoverishment of the "Switzerland

By day and by night, men, women and children sift through the stinking piles for plastic waterbottles that are now being recycled, for glass bottles that are being reused, for rags, cardboard of the Middle East."

and old newspapers.

that rubbish?

A few days later, the party

A 6,000 B.C. statue, found at Ain Ghazal dig near Amman, is one of the items an display at the Cologne exhibition (File photo)

the most complete collection in There are photographs of cities existence and is being shown for the first time with the archaeological exhibition.

172 dresses and 200 accessories - scarfs, shawls, belts, bonnets, etc. — are on display from Mrs. Kaawar's collection of more than 1,000 objects. The exhibits also include valuable Maria Theresa Thalers and numerous pieces of jewellery.

The ethnological exhibition includes scenes depicting different aspects of life in the region. According to Mrs. Kaawar the visitors showed special interest for the village kitchen scene that goes hack to the first half of this century.

This scene, the items of which was brought from the Yarmouk University Museum in Irhid, shows all the details of a kitchen in a very realistic way with the the "Jamid" (dried yogurt). A woman sitting in front of the kitchen, baking bread, is a scene women go to buy clothes, heads- dresses with old designs. carves, etc., wearing their folk Madaha. nurth Palestine and Bethlehem, showing the way these costumes are warn in these areas and the wamen's trouseau. Another interesting scene depicts a picnic in an orange grove near Jaffa in the 1930's. The and villages around Karak, dresses shown in this scene are from Beit Dajan which is near Jaffa and well known for its orange groves. The sewing room (or coroer) is vet another scene where the lady sits and sews her dresses. The very old threads and fahrics that were used earlier this century are on display with the sewing kit and the sewing machine. Perhaps nne of the most interesting scenes is a photograph that shows the modero-day university, where three students are seen one wearing a modero dress, shelves, food store, flour, even another wearing the modern traditional dress and one wearing the traditional Islamic dress. Apart from these separate.

very familiar in some areas of scenes, dresses are displayed.

Jordan even at the present day. around the exhibition area. The Beside the village kitchen is a oldest piece goes back to the first textile shop from Irbid. It shows half of the 19th century, but the how, even at the present day, collection also includes modern According to the organisers, costumes. A present day photo- the idea of the exhibition origingraph, in the hackground, shows ated two years ago by a professor women shopping in Irbid very of ethnology who was in Amman similar to the displayed scene. to attend a conference. While in The next window is a scene Amman, Prnfessor Johansen around the heginning of this cen- went to see Mrs. Kaawar's collectury showing a room where the tion and upon returning to West bride prepares her trouseau. Germany she discussed with two museum directors the possibility nf an exhibition. When the West German organisers saw the King's Highway exhibition in Paris they decided on the idea of a twin exhibition in Cologne.

The exhibition cost about ID 100,000, paid by the municipality of Cologne and the Federal Government. Additional expenses were paid by Jordan's Tourism Authority and Royal Jordanian which included travel expenses and promotion of tourism in

Mrs. Kaawar, Ms. Muna Ghazal, fram the Tourism Authority and the deputy director of the Department of Antiquities, Prof. Fawzi Zayadine, who were present during the first week after the official opening, expressed enormous pleasure over the large number of visitors who came to see the twin exhibitinn.

Despite having shorter time to prepare and less space for the archaeological exhibition than the one in Paris, Prof. Zayadine was very pleased with the display.

"It is very heautifully displayed," Prof. Zayadine said, "it is very successful. The pictures and the costumes give actual dimen-sion in this exhibition," he added.

"The King's Highway is a symbol of Jordan's cultural situation, as a medium hetween the different civilisations," Dr. Zayadine said, "The exhibition shows the ancient life in lordan and Palestine as well as the modern one."

Commenting on the exhibition, West German Ambassador to Jordan Herwig Bartels, who played a big role in realising the idea of the exhibition, expressed great satisfaction that everything has materialised so success-

"It gives me a tremendous pleasure to look at this exhibitinn," Mr. Bartels said. "It is so beautiful, delightfully beautiful."

The West German organisers too vniced great delight. One of them recalled a meeting beld between Jordanian and West German organisers, which was also attended by Queen Noor. Commenting on the coordination between organisers on both sides at the end of the meeting, Her Majesty said: "I think the chemistry is good."

After the great response shown by the people of West Germany. iting the exhibition large numbers, the beautiful display of all the items exhibited in the museum one recognises the enormous efforts and the perfect chemistry by the organising teams which has made this exhibition a

At the end of March, 1988 the exhibition will go on to Vienna and Munich.

JUNRWA needs better financial base

A BROADER and more dependable financial base is needed by the United Nations Relief and Works Agency for Palestine Re-fugees (UNRWA), although donor generosity and staff austerity measures have improved the short-term positioo, according to the agency's Commissioner-

UNRWA runs schools, clinics and relief services for about 2.2 million registered Palestine refugees in Jordan, Lebanon, the Syrian Arab Republic, the West Bank and the Gaza Strip. Created by U.N. General Assembly, it has been operating since 1950.

Commissioner-General Giorgio Giacomelli noted in his annual report to the General Assembly in New York, published Oct. 15, that there were encouraging prospects of receiving the $200.3 million hudgeted for 1987, except for needed construction work, which was still largely unfunded.

dnnnrs, mainly governments, of UNRWA operations had been improved and their response to appeals was greatly appreciated, Mr. Giacomelli went on, hut there were no grounds for agency complacency. Small but regular increases in donations would help cope with the natural annual in-

First-hand knowledge hy

League's call for greater levels of contribution by its member states was encouraging.

Some quarters, tell. Condominational and supplementary feeding for vulnerable population groups. The health budget

Problems in Lebanon, occupied territories

In Lebanon, seven staff mem-bers had been killed during the year; scores had been wounded and hundreds kidnapped. At the peak of the camps war UNRWA was dealing with nearly 50,000 displaced refugees. Most of the buildings in the Beirut camps of Bourj Al Barajneh and Shatila had been destroyed by systematic shelling, the Commissioner-General reported, and a major repair programme was urgently needed to provide even minimal shelter before the onset of winter rains. Access to camps in the Beirut and Tyre areas remained a problem, and refugees in Saida had faced difficulties as a result of Israeli air-raids. In the Israelinecupied territories of the West Bank and Gaza Strip, economic conditions had continued to deteriorate; refugee unrest and the responses of the occupying authorities had caused disruption of UNRWA's education services, although good examination re-sults remained an encouraging factor.

A grossly unfair and distorted and, in this respect, the Arab some quarters, Mr. Giacomelli health services in the camps and camps. In fact, only five per cent of the refugee population now received direct relief assistance; the great bulk of UNRWA's resources were devoted to education and training as well as providing effective medical and welfare services for a refugee population that was largely industrious and self-supporting. During the year under review, UNRWA had provided educa-tion for some 349,000 Palestine refugee children in its 635 schools. Those in Jordan and Syria had heen able to operate normally. In the occupied territories, disruptions had been overcome by means of additional teaching periods. Even in trou-bled Lebanon, the Commissioner-General added, 65 of the 82 agency schools were operational last June. In all areas, apart understandahly enough from Lebanon, UNRWA students had performed as well as or better than those from government schools in their state examina-

The health care programme, primarily community healthoriented, continued to provide a combination of curative and pre-

funded a network of health centres, maternal and child clinics, specialist and dental facilities. laboratories, rehabilitation and maternity centres. In four of the five agency fields, the refugee population had already bettered the World Health Organisation target for developing countries of fewer than 50 deaths per thousand live births.

UNRWA relief services included the special bardship programme which during the year helped nearly 118,000 refugees eligible for food, blankets, some cash assistance, grants for self-support projects, aid to repair or construct shelters and preferential access to vocational and teacher-training. This was in addition to a general welfare programme comprising casework, women's activities, adult training courses, education and training for the disabled, the promotion of income-generating projects. emergency assistance and pre-school facilities. In 1986, Mr. Giacomelli pointed out, more than 4,500 young Palestine refugees took part in sporting and cultural activities provided by the agency in 42 centres.

Financial newspaper battle looms in Canada is about to witness a major battle for advertising dollars as the veteran weekly Financial Post goes daily to challenge the dominance of the Toronto Globe and Mail in the business market, reports David Owen.

TORONTO - The long-expected announcement that the Financial Post, Maclean Hunter's 80-year-old Canadian husiness weekly, is to launch a daily edition has set the stage for the higgest battle for advertising dollars in Toronto and other domestic financial ceotres since the hottum fell out of the market in

Under the terms of the deal, announced recently, Toronto Sun Publishing — a 57.3 per cent owned subsidiary of Maclean Hunter — has agreed to acquire the Financial Post division for C$46 million (U.S.$35.2 million) in Torooto Sun shares. TSP publishes daily tabloid newspapers in Torooto, Calgary and Edmonton.
It received high praise for its handling of the launch of its flagship, the Toronto Sun, into what many considered to be a saturated market in November

The backdrop of the impending battle could hardly be more different from the straitened circumstances of 1982. Advertising sales in Canada are booming. The 144year-old Globe & Mail — among the jewels of the Thomson empire — is enjoying an "incredi-ble" year and the Financial Post itself benefiting from bigber advertising lineage and revenues, despite declining market share.

Nevertheless, Toronto is not exactly a neglected market in terms of daily newspapers. Unlike many other hig cities where competition has become fairly himited, particularly since the closures of the Ottawa Journal and Winnipeg Tribune in 1980. Toranto is served by three locally-based general interest dailies: the Glube & Mail (billed these days as "Canada's national newspaper"), the Sun and the Toronto

Mr. Neville Nankivell, the Financial Post's publisher, stresses that the new daily product will be a national paper, although Toronto is where "the full thrust on distribution," including a possible home and office delivery service, will be felt. "We're going to be the Wall Street Journal of Canada in tahloid," Mr. Douglas Creighton, TSP's president, recently proclaimed.

Plans are for about half of the editorial content of the minimum 48-page daily to consist of stock market tables and other financial information. The cover price will be 25 or 50 cents. The product, which will be Canada's first daily newspaper devoted entirely to business, is expected to hit the streets early next year. According to Mr. Creighton, initial circulation will be approximately 60,000.

The projected cost of the launch is being kept, for the moment, under wraps. However, an earlier Maclean Hunter plan to produce a daily Financial Post on its own is believed to bave budgeted for an estimated cost of C$20 million to C$30 million. The tinue to be published.

"It will be the same kind of relationship that the (British) Sunday Telegraph bas with the Daily Telegraph," says Mr. Nankivell in what some might interpret as a Freudian slip. Mr. Conrad Black, the Canadian oroprietor of the Daily Telegraph, is rumoured to have been highly supportive of the new venture and is seen in some circles as a possible future partner.

The Financial Post and TSP have had links since 1976, when TSP began printing the weekly. Maclean Hunter bought into the Sun in 1982. TSP recently sold the struggling Houston Post at a profit of C$45 million, a deal which, observers feel, may have influenced the timing of this month's developments.

In the absence of a specialised business daily in Canada, the Globe & Mail has been cashing in famously through its expansive Report on Business (ROB) section, described by Mr. Michael Soliman, director of marketing and corporate development, as "the major driving force" of the

By dint of its hroad scope, the lack of compenion and its copious resort to authoritative news agency material, the ROB has won a broad following and a 58 per cent share of the overall business advertising market, according to Mr. Soliman. The section now accounts for 28 per cent of the Globe & Mail's total advertising revenues. Local opinion seems to be that the ROB's largely unfocused and sometimes lacklustre approach is vulnerable to a strong competitor with deep pockets. But the competitive threat could bardly have come at a better time from the Glabe & Mail's point of view. "We are having the best year in the history of the Globe & Mail," savs Mr. Soliman. Advertising lineage is up some 12 per cent from a year ago and September circulation reached 341,000, an increase of some 20,000 copies over the 1986 average. With an interoational stable of 70 newspapers and 106 magazines, the Thomson organisation appears well positioned to withstand a

Yet the strength of the adver-tising market will also stand the new Financial Post in good stead.
"It's a bigger pie," says Mr.
Nankivell, "That's why we are launching. We think we are going into a niche that is not truly filled at the moment" - Financial

Suicidal Japanese flock to 'forest-of-no-return

By Seigo Sakamoto

every year travel to a primeval forest near Japan's Mount Fuji with one aim in mind - to lose themselves among the trees and die alone.

those who succeed.

In the latest sweep of the Aoki-gahara forest earlier this month, police and firemen found seven bodies, four men and three women, and that was after searching only the areas close to paths criss-crossing the inpenetrable sea of trees.

Every year, around 40 bodies are found. How many others are still lying undiscovered in the depths of the woods between Mount Fuji and Lake Kawaguchi is anyone's guess.

tear off anything which includes their name before they come to

TOKYO — Dozens of people

The thick forest draws wouldbe suicides from all over Japan and each year, police conduct a grim search for the bodies of

"People usually leave nothing to identify themselves," local deputy police chief Nagayasu Natori said in a telephone interview. "Most of them even erase or commit suicide.' Once deep in the 2,500 bectare forest, there are no visible landmarks to help walkers find their way, and even a compass cannot be relied upon because it would be disturbed by magnetic lava in the area, he said. Some of the hodies may belong to hikers who lose their way in the treacherous forest. "The forest is so thickly wooded that once you wander off paths deep into the forest, it would be difficult to return to safety," Natori added. Police patrol the area regularly and detain people who have come to die before they can wander off in search of oblivion.

Last year there were about 70 suicides every day in Japan, which has one of the world's highest suicide rates. Reasons cited hy police include illness, alcoholism and financial prob-

The "forest-of-no-return" became well-known in the early 1960s after the publication of a novel depicting the area as an ideal site for committing suicide

Short and sexy dominates look for next summer

By Suzy Patterson The Associated Press

PARIS - She's gorgeous, flirtanous and sexy. The new woman far next summer as seen by ready-to-wear designers showing this past week is wearing minis right up to swimsuit length, has plunging decolletes, feminine flounces and ruffles, funny bows and hustles.

But that is only part of the story. While cute tricks, leggy looks and clinging clothes abound, there is really much more in store, a big choice for the late 80s. Women over 30 do not have to suit themselves up like vamps, procelain dolls or tiny tots, because along with all the mini madness, one can spot trouser suits, flattering culottes, a few long skirts and rafts of dressy bermuda shorts. To review the short scene, the hemline may start at mid-knee, or wind up as a dressy, draped bathing suit as shown by Ungaro in his Esther Williams looks. Most designers showed high, nearing mid-thigh, although these skirts may not sell well except to those with gorgeous gams.

The skirt shapes range from the safe pencil-slim line - a favourite on Paris streets - to the peppiest flounced looks or puffs.

Some of the best snappiest in short dressing was in bermuda main, Scherrer and elsewhere. The shapely silhouette may be tailored for daytime, with some shoulder padding. But a new trend started by Christian Lacroix is taking hold: the "fichu" collar that gives shoulders an outright

Another strong look was con-tributed by Claude Montana, whose sculptured beauties wore enormous stand-out tunnel collars over beautifully cut shorts, minis and long pants. For daytime, there were blazers galore, often striped collegiate-style as at Jean-Paul Gaultier. He won a fashion "oscar" for showing more wearable clothes than in the past.

Other jacket silhouettes included sharp fitted or full-backed boleros, spencers, blousons, depending on the skirts, which were sometimes circular or flounced athemlines,

The themes that sparked shows included Saint Laurent's ruffled pierettes, sailors in stripes and reefers all over town. Holiday girls headed for safaris in dressy jungle gear.

The carioca or creole girls in sarongs and flowers were more contemporary for a dance floor than the coy dressy looks of the 18th-century shepherdess, panniers, flounces and all as shown at some houses.

Lacroix's black lace dress with striped satin skirt

Karl Lagerfeld used a lot of Chanel with its bohhy-soxed gasping. However, his long and sophisticated dressy culottes in true Chanel style won most critics back to the Chanel fold.

Coats for spring walked out as these flounced details in his own three-quarter styles or long jackcollection, but his show for ets over the shorts or teeny skirts. But full trenchcoat styles made teen-age styles had the audience. the scene as well - sometimes as small-waisted and full-skirted coat-cresses. In shiny, pin-dotted cire, they would make women sing in the rain.

sion, appears for the moment beyond hope of salvation, its health inextricably tied to the health of the body politic. The government is one of the richest in the world, with 9.2 million ounces of gold that are today worth £2.6 billion. But, for the first time, the Lebanese are poor - and getting poorer as the real value of their wages declines and the cost of living increases, climbing into the realms of byperinfla-

Four years ago, the minimum monthly wage was the equivalent of $200 — an important conversion in a country which imports 85 per cent of its requirements and where many items are now priced in U.S. dollars. At the end of last week, despite a 100 per cent increment early in the month, it was barely $20.

Inflation this year is already running at more than 250 per cent to influence.

Beirutis forage amid the rubbish and unions predict that it will more than double by the year's

> Anyone who has foreign currency enough to convert is still prosperous. And plenty do - 85 per cent of hank deposits are in foreign currencies.

But those who have only Lehanese pounds — especially those with limited income - are facing a catastrophe. A driver who suffers from diabetes today needs five times his salary simply to huy the insulin he needs to stay alive. A maid who needed chest Xrays, spent two-thirds of her monthly wage in one afternoon. Only the abuses built into the Lebanese system have enabled so many to keep going for so long. Few pay taxes. Anyone who wants electricity just hooks in. Telephone hills come in years late and, in a militia-controlled west Beirut, it was possible to pay a pittance and speak for hours to anywhere in the world.

The Lebanese economy, which The militias, concerned that survived even the Israeli invathis economic crists may lose them public sympathy, are now trying to buy future support with present help — bus services, for example, school books, cut-price petrol, dispensaries, food hand-

But even these dodges and compromises are no longer sufficient to keep life ticking over above the breadline.

For the poor, food itself is becoming a problem and education rapidly out of reach; 2.2lb of meat costs almost one week's minimum salary; and, a year's education for a young child costs three months' salary.

The first reaction to the new poverty has been the hirth of a new trade union militancy — a militancy which cuts across congessional lines, despite certain liks to the Christian right, but which is limited by the very impotence of the government it seeks

Palestinian children shell beans on a pavement in the Shatila refugee camp earlier this year. Now, they are copied by West Beirntis who are

A second reaction, in August, spread that the nickel content of was the eruption of spontaneous protest demonstrations in west Beirut as crowds of Lehanese. many of them in their early teens, attacked money changers and smashed shops.

sifting through rubbish for goods to recycle

If the economic collpase continues, and no one is expecting an improvement before next year's presidential elections, many are predicting a social explosion as the nurchasing power of the Lebanese pound, 75 per cent down in the first eight months of this year, shrinks still further. The government has already abolished subsidies on petrol and, unless it mortgages some of its gold reserves, can reportedly afford to continue the remaining subsidies on fuel oil, gas oil and hread for only two to three government refuses even to meet.

black marketeering, currency flourish. A few weeks ago word speculation and sheer lunacy months. In the meantime, since the coin worth more than its face All over the country, coins with a maximum nickel value of £12 were traded on street corners for the Lebanese pound made the ridiculous sums - the record reached was £950 in the northern city of Tripoli. In Sidon, two men were shot dead and seven wounded when pound fever turned vio-The violence engendered by the economic crisis has been relatively limited so far. A local newspaper, L'Orient-Le Jour, last week expressed amazement that "a harassed, anguished people almost reduced to begging still retain the immense merit of not abandoning itself to looting, thieving and other illegal acts that nsnally accompany penniless-

This is now one of the main fears for the future - The Guar-

SPORTS IN BRIEF

stalemate at Hampden Park. European Cup hopes Rangers found themselves a goal down when Jim Bett fired home a penalty against his former cluh in the ninth minute, hut Davie Cooper equalised with a powerful free kick from 20 metres. 1an Durrant gave Rangers a 41st minute lead hut John Hewitt and Willie

Falconer turned the final around before Robert Fleck made it 3-3

Royal Gait romps to victory at Longchamp

PARIS (R) - Royal Gait, the former Spanish-trained stayer now

hased with John Fellows at Chantilly, relished the heavy ground and ran out an easy winner of the Prix Royal Oak (French St.

Leger) at Longchamp on Sunday. Ridden hy Alfred Gibert, the four-year-old took the lead a furlong out and stormed clear to beat the British-trained Spruce Baby, with John Lowe aboard, by eight lengths. Productive, ridden by Freddie Head, was one and a half lengths away third in the 11-strong field. Fellows said: "I had hoped to run him next in the Japan Cup hut we did not nominate him in time. This is a very good horse who will be capable of winning top races over shorter distances than this next season.

Farewell to Longchamp for Saint-Martin

PARIS (R) - French jockey Yves Saint-Martin, who retires at the end of season, made his last appearance at Longchamp on Sunday. Saint-Martin will race until the end of the French racing year in December, but Sunday marked his farewell to Longchamp, scene of his four Prix de l'Arc de Triomphe wins.

Saint-Martin, 46, finished second on Shamasiya in the Prix des

Capucines and Allius in the Prix du Point du Jour and was unplaced in his three other races. He did not take part in the top race, the group one Prix Royal Oak (French St. Leger). Saint-Martin, who has ridden more than 3,300 winners in a 30-year career and been national champion 15 times, plans to race in the United States and Japan before retiring next January.

five minutes from the end of normal time.

A six-year stroll around the world

Jordanian embarks on tough mission

By Nermeen Murad Special to the Jordan Times

AMMAN -- Walid Suleiman Amayreh, a 24-yearold Jordanian, began Monday to walk around the world over the coming six years in what he believes to be the first adventure of its kind ever undertaken

In an interview with the Jordan Times, Mr. Amayreh said that he is taking this trip as a tribute to His Majesty King Hussein on the occasion of the King's hirthday.

The hirthday present is Mr. Amavreh's planned voyage which he envisions to be his duty as "a travelling amhassador of Jordan to the rest of the world.".Mr. Amayreh also wants to show the world how life in Jordan has changed under the reign of King Hussein who "delivered Jordan to a state of development and stability.

Mr. Amayreh, a native of Salt, expects to start the first leg of his six-vear walk around the world on Oct. 20 from Ramtha in the north through 1rhid, Mafraq, hopes to write books about "this Zarqa, the capital, Balqa, Ma'da-country" (Jordan) and touristic ba, Karak, Tafileh and Maan, from where he will start his tour through Jordan and the Arab World will take him 2 years, he The second leg of the walking trip will take him through Europe to North America, Asia, Australia and Africa, a trek he hopes to

of the Arah World. Walking cover in four years. The objectives of Mr. Amayreh are many, but he feels that he is full of "high spirits" and is "programmed" to undertake this type of trip. "I want to encourage the sport of walking in the age of high technology."

Mr. Amayreh added that he guide books, covering Jordanian

Mr. Amayreh also feels that he is the "pigeon carrier of Jordanian peace to the world" and that he would "reflect" to the rest of the world the Arah traits of "generosity and hospitality" through his visits to the different countries of the world.

In reply to a question about the danger of undertaking such a long trip on his own, Mr. Amayreh said that this trip would be a "personal adventure which will show the human strength under pressure, especially in different climates.

When asked about his family's hacking for this adventure, Mr. Amayreh said "it is my own responsibility. after all 1 am 24

Mr. Amayreh is currently working as an instructor on anti-quities in Jordan at the Hotel Training College.

Isam Ru'oud and Nayef Da'jeh, both Jordanians said they will be accompanying Amayreh on his tour around the world after the end of his leg in Jordan.

Yugoslavia wrests sixth world junior soccer crown

SANTIAGO (R) — Yugoslavia marksman, who failed with his won the sixth World Youth Footpenalty attempt and opened the ball Championship on Sunday when they defeated West Germany 5-4 on penalties in the final.

With the 65,000 crowd in Santiago's Estadio Nacional roaring him on, Bohan calmly stepped up to convert the final penalty and secure the under-21 title for the Yugoslavs.

Ironically, it was the blond Witeczek, the tournament's top way for the Yugoslav triumph.

The final went to a penalty shoot-out after 30 minutes of extra time failed to hreak the deadlock which had left the two sides drawn 1-1 (half-time 0-0) after the first 90 minutes of play. The match, which at times had the large crowd whistling with derision at both sides' cautious defensive play, finally came alight the spot.

in the final minutes of normal

Yugoslavia appeared to have clinched the title when Bohan, their outstanding player, volleyed home a cross in the 84th minute.

But the West Germans, who had rarely threatened the Yugoslay goal, responded immediately when Epp was judged to have been brought down in the penalty area and Witeczek scored from

Twins ousts Cardinals to win World Series

party is on in Minnesota, home to the higgest home-bodies in base-

Champions of the World Series for the first time in their history, the Twins returned to the Metrodome field for the last time in 1987 to take a bow before their fans. There couldn't have been a more fitting tribute.

all happened for the Twins.

"And have a good time. You deserve it."

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) - The empty, the roar still was deafening.

Never had a team won a World Series by winning all its home games without winning on the road. How could it have been The Twins built the best home record of any team in baseball this season, 56-25, but had the worst road record of any team to Home, after all, was where it ever win a pennant, 29-52.

After hitting seven homers in "Go party" Gary Gaetti told the first six games - all but one what was left of a crowd of 55,376 at home — Minnesota had none their turn at the microphone. in its 4-2 victory over St. Louis in the same 7 Sunday night. The Twins scored their go-ahead run with three walks and an infield hit by Even with the Metrodome half- Greg Gagne, and the World on a questionable call by firstbase umpire Lee Weyer, and a bad call by Weyer, a national league umpire, took the Cardinals out of a possible scoring situation later in the games.

Series MVP of the homer-happy Twins was a pitcher, Frank Viola.

The Cardinals, who have been to three World Series in the '80s, had come here boping to avenge a 1985 loss to Kansas City, caused in part by an umpire's call in

But, with their home-run leader, Jack Clark, lost entirely and Terry Pendleton limited by injuries, there was to be no satisfaction for the Cardinals in Minne-

"We lost, that's the bottom line," Cardinals centre fielder Willie McGee said. "We had a heck of a year... They are the world champions. There is nothing to comment on. They are the best team in base-

"One game, and we're the best team in the world. We came that close without one of the best offensive players in haseball." three sixes — one of them the

NEW YORK (R) — The National Foothall League (NFL) re-The Twins got one of their runs Sanday for the first time since the end of the players' strike. The 24-day strike collapsed on Oct. 15, but striking players were turned away from last weekend's games by team owners for not returning before a scheduled deadline. With the issues of the strike

now transferred to the courts season meeting of team owners. since the NFL players association

AHMEDABAD, India (R) — a happy man despite his team's seven-wicket win over Zimhabwe's in the World Cup Group A crick-

It took India 42 overs to pass

Zimhabwe's modest total of 191

for seven, and as a result their run rate per over dropped from 5.31 to 5.18. "We should have made it by 38 overs. I'm feeling had, said Kapil Dev, who slammed et match here on Monday.

Indian captain Kapil Dev was not boost the scoring rate.

filed an anti-trust suit against the cluded in the super bowl playoffs league's 28 teams, focus has sumed play with regular teams on . shifted to the effect of the replacement games on the playoff standings.

Suggestions that additional wild-card berths he added to the playoffs to benefit teams which lost out during the three weekends of games hetween make-shift teams is rumoured to be taken up at Tuesday's mid-

Ten teams are ordinarily in-India wins group cricket match

The Indian captain, named man-of-the-match for his 41 not who made 50 in 35 overs, telling him to hurry up the scoring. In the end Gavaskar fell playing an imprudent swing but it seemed

Navjot Sidhu, India's number three, was also more restrained

- six divisional winners plus four wild-card teams. During the replacement games, 14 teams lost ground, eight stayed even and six wound up with better records towards the Super Bowl Championship.

Perhaps bardest hit was the defending world champion New York Giants, who won their first me of the season on Sunday. 'ng the St. Louis Cardinals bea his fourth half-century in as many position is vulnerable. The Australians have a match in hand and with games against New Zealand and Zimbabwe to come, will group. If they did this, India would have to go to Lahore to face Pakistan in the semifinals.

India's run rate is now below

World Cup matches.

Amayreb talks to journalists at a press conference on Sunday before beginning his 6-year trek around the world.

Lockridge downs la Rosa

Two judges had Lockridge ahead. 87-83 and 86-85, going into the 10th round, while the third had de la Rosa ahead 86-84.

hammered at the body of the tiring and staggering Lockridge.

La Rosa under fire

But Lockridge recovered in the fifth, catching the 24-year-old de la Rosa with a right to the jaw in the eighth, staggering him on the ropes after the 5-9 (1.76-metre).

·130-pound (59-kilogramme) chal-

tauntingly and began dancing

In the ninth, Lockridge continued tying up his opponent in the corners, concentrating on the Regular NFL players return to field

In the fourth round, de la Rosa

TUCSON, Arizona (AP) — started counting up to eight. He Two-time junior lightweight was completely out of it." Lockworld champion Rocky Lock- ridge is 42-5 with 34 knockouts. ridge stopped top-ranked conten-der Johnny de la Rosa in the 10th round of the first defence of his International Boxing Federation (IBF) crown Sunday. Referee Al Munoz stopped the scheduled 15-round fight at 2:43 of the 10th round after Lockridge dropped de la Rosa with a rightleft-right combination.

De la Rosa had staggered Lockridge earlier, putting the cham-pion on his back in the third round with a left hook.

The 5-foot-5, 130-pound Lockridge, 28, caught the taller and younger de la Rosa with a right lenger dropped his left shoulder cross in Lockridge's corner, following with a left hook and away. another right hand that put him on the canvas.

"He (de la Rosa) was helpless when be hit him" Munoz said. "1

Lockridge took the fight inside in the first two rounds, but de la Rosa drew first blood, with a left jah cutting Lockridge on the hridge of his nose in the second

'First blood'

De la Rosa suffered a cut over his left eyebrow in the seventh

Lockridge won the IBF title Aug. 9 when Australian Barry Michael could not answer the bell for the ninth round in Windsor.

De la Rosa came into the fight with a 32-2 record, including 26 knockouts.

He had been angling for a fight with Michaels earlier this year but the two camps could not reach agreement and Lockridge got his chance for the title instead.

Top soccer tie played without fans

DHAKA (R) — The playoff for Bangladesh's National Soccer League Championship was decided on Monday in a nearly empty 30,000-seat army stadium. The National Sports Control Board (NSCB) ordered the match to be replayed behind closed doors after players of Mohammedan Sporting Club and their arch rivals Abahani Krira Chakra walked off the pitch when they met on Sept. 9 and declared themselves joint champions. Mohammedans won Monday's rerun by 2-0 in front of only 200 selected journalists and officials, while fans had to watch the match on television. Both teams finished the season with 27 points and in the deciding match they refused to play extra time after a goalless encounter, enraging fans and the NSCB. The NSCB challenged the decision and ordered them to play again under threat of relegation to the "B" Division. It also shifted the venue from the national stadium to the army ground and ordered no spectators be allowed in. About 150 people were injured when clashes broke out during two matches between Mohammedans and Abahani on

Chinese walker sets 10,000 m record

PEKING (R) — China's Chen Yaoling broke the world record for the women's 10,000 metres walk on Saturday, the official New China News Agency reported. Chen set a time of 43 minutes 52.1 seconds, breaking the old record set by her compatriot Xu Yongjiu by 34.4 seconds. Chen was competing in the Chinese National Games walking finals in the central city of Zhengzhou. International judges from Australia, West Germany and China

Soviets, Romanians share gymnastic

ROTTERDAM, Netherlands (AP) - Romanian Aurelia Dobre and Soviet Dmitri Bilozerchev each added individual titles Sunday to their all-around crowns, hut a dethroned champion outshone them as the World Gymnastics Championships ended. Elena Shoushounova, at 18 the veteran member of a young Soviet team, was world champion in 1985 hut came in second this year to Dohre. However, on Sunday Shoushounova came back to win four medals, including two golds in the vault and floor exercise. She also won a silver in the halance beam and a bronze in the uneven hars. First she defended her title in the vault, earning 9.913 and 9.9 for her two jumps.

CAREER OPPORTUNITY

A leading Saudi Co. that represents world famous manufacturers of medical, laboratory and dental supplies and equipment is seeking professional, experienced

MEDICAL SALES REPRESENTATIVES

that have the following:

- 1. At least three years experience in
- 2. Must be fluent in Arabic and English languages
- 3. Preferably a single status
- 4. Age between 25 30 years
- 5. Medical, lab or dental background is a must

Salary is attractive, including incentive system, housing, transportation, annual leave and medical coverage for a good opportunity to have a career in the medical field. Please write in confidence to the

"General Manager" P.O. Box 5012, Riyadh 11422 Saudi Arabia

موافقة وزارة العمل رقم م/٢٩١/٨٨ ناريخ ۲۸/۹/۲۸

SPOKEN ARABIC

By Dr. Widad Goussous (published in Germany)

is again available at Al Ulama`Bookshop, Prince Mohammad Street, near the Post Office.

FOR RENT

winning hit — in an effort to than be has been in making 55, out and two wickets, said he sent Australia's 5.20 and although out a message to Sunil Gavaskar, they still lead the section, their his captain was not particularly be looking to pip India on faster impressed. be looking to pip India on faster scoring and tinish top of the

Furnished or unfurnished house: centrally heated, wall-papered, wall-to-wall carpet, modern kitchen, 2 bedrooms, with 2 bath-rooms, garden, garage and telephone.

Phone daily: 624668, 817086.

UNITED GROUP OF ENGINEERS FOR TRADING

Available at their stock: Testing equipment for material, soil, concrete & asphalt.

Tel: 638074 or 630847, Amman.

MODERN FURNISHED APARTMENT FOR RENT

In the best residential area, between the Fourth and Fifth Circles, Jabel Amman, near Amon Hotel "Hotel Training Centre."
With telephone, central healing, built in cupboards and television. Two bedrooms, large living room, two bathrooms and veranda.

Tel: 777112 8 a.m. - 1 p.m. 674028 after 2 p.m.

OPERA

AMMAN BACCALAUREATE SCHOOL

Applications are invited from suitably qualified and experienced candidates for the post of leacher of History in English in Senior School (grades 7-12). Full-time or part-lime candidates will be considered.

Application forms are available from the School and should be returned by Monday Nov. 2

Cinema CONCORD THE LIVING DAYLIGHTS

TOM SELLECK... IN RUNAWAY

THORESONS 4:41, 6:15, 8:40, 10 W

Tel: 675573

Tel: 677420 PLAZA 9½ WEEKS

Performances 3:30 6 (8) x 30, 10-30

Islamic company promotes secondary trading

BAHRAIN (R) — One of the Islamic worlds major banking concept one step further. It has Al Baraka guarantees to buy duled for January or early organisations, the Jeddah-based Al Baraka Group, bas set up an organisation it bopes will lead to the creation of the first Islamic secondary financial market.

An official of the new organisation told Reuters the idea was to provide a new form of trade in finance for investors.

The Al Baraka Group, which has assets of more than $1 billion and includes over a dozen banks worldwide, has formed a Bahrain-based company to bandle the new Islamic financial instrument.

The instrument is based on the Islamic concept of Murabaha, where an investor agrees to huy a product for immediate delivery to a third party, but with payment at a later date (usually one to 24 months) at a margin above mar-

This avoids a conflict with interest-bearing loans, which are forbidden in Islamic law.

Mr. Faisal Lakhoua, general manager of Al Baraka's new extent already discounted, dealers said.

fairly dramatic news to stop the rot.

not received

This is a good day to get into the business aspects of your life and find out whet's been holding you back. Those around you may be in a mood to argue tonight, so be oo your guard.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Coo-tact some powerful people you know regarding a new project. Ba sure to avoid any arguments with

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20)

Many modern ideas will occur to you today, so be a progressive thinker and implement them to

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21)

Don't be unreasonable if confronted with some criticism this afternoon. There may be a problem with your car tonight — be cautious.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to Jul. 21) Reserve some tims for your mate tonight, es this person has been feeling a bit oeglected. Keep a cheerful stitude all day.

LEO (Jul. 22 to Aug. 21) Don't rely on others to handle your responsibilities — your work is being scrutinized by superiors. Watch your budget carefully.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Maintain a serious attitude, sven

Maintain a serious attitude, sven

OOWN 1 Tears 2 Cily on the Oka

your advantage now.

that U.S. stocks would open substantially lower.

as tax hikes, will be announced in the near-term.

LONDON STOCK MARKET

LONDON (R) --- An early 100-point (5.1 per cent) decline on Wall Street saw London equity prices at their low point for the day, but failed to cause a massive further slide as it was to a large

U.K. shares slumped in early business after Hong Kong's 33 per cent and Tokyo's near five per cent drop overnight, which together with a poor performance by the dollar fuelled a belief

The FTSE 100 index at 1515 GMT was down 147.7 (8.2 per

Dealers said selling is emotional and it is going to take some

Traders in markets around the world are anxiously awaiting some announcement on moves to curtail the U.S. budget deficit from Monday's meeting between President Reagan and the U.S.

Congress. Many, however, are sceptical that positive moves, such London exchange rates were

FORECAST FOR TUESDAY, OCTOBER 27, 1987

YOUR HOROSCOPE

From the Carroll Righter Institute

GENERAL TENDENCIES: though you may be tempted to language as a good day to get into the language at someone's opinion. Be objective and open-minded.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) If you can see your way clear to lend-ing money to a friend, do so. You know this person will definitely pay you back conscientiously. SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21)

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21)
Now is the time to ask s fsvor of a superior. You should pay particular attention to your checkbook right now, as there may be a mistake. SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Have a good time with your mate at a social affair tonight. Don't criticize the idees of others if you don't understand them.

you don't understand them. CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)

Formulate a plan of action early to-day, then stick to it. Don't rely on your intuition when dealing with family members touight. AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)

Ba sure all of your bills are paid on time, and be ready to face some new debts iocurred from property repairs. Drive carefully. PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Don't judge a book by its cover when you meet new people today. If you keep an open mind, you may make some new and lasting friends.

cent) at 1,647.8 after a low of 1,638.1 just after the U.S. opening.

divided the product-finance into units which it hopes can be

Mr. Lakhoua told Reuters on Sunday that the equity of his firm, Altawfeek Company for Investment Funds B.S.C., would be divided into a series of trusts, each providing the capital to finance Murabaha and other Islamically-acceptable deals.

The non-voting sbares of the first such trust were issued internally on Thursday to members of the Al Baraka Group as a dress rehearsal for a public issue in January or February.

Mr. Lakhoua would not say how much the first offering was worth, but said it involved financing imports for a company in Saudi Arabia.

"In principle, the instrument is not interest-linked. We will try to have it separate," Mr. Lakhoua said, adding that it was hased on the Islamic principle of profit and loss sbaring.

The non-voting trust shares will

Al Baraka guarantees to buy duled for January or early them back from the holder. Mr. February.

Lakhoua bopes to make the A second Al Baraka company Bahrain office of Al Baraka a being formed, Al Ameen for main headquarters of a secondary Securities, will operate on a similar system, but with leasing, where Al Ameen buys a large thority gave Al Baraka permission capital item then leases it to a to form Altawfeek Company in company at a fixed rent. The agreement would also be in the cruited and the company is due to form of a trust with non-voting be fully operational by December sbares sold to the public.

Lebanese lira spirals down, may reach 500 mark to dollar

market in Islamic instruments.

April. Staff is now being re-

The Bahrain Monetary Au-

BEIRUT (R) - The Lehanese lira dived to another record low against the dollar on Monday, losing more than nine per cent of its international value, dealers said.

The central bank posted a closing price of 475.00 to the U.S. dollar, down 45 liras from Friday's close of 430.00

"We should start mourning the local currency," a dealer told Reuters. "Only a political solution can stop the lira's death."

Once the strongest currency in the region, the lira has lost more than 82 per cent of its international value this year, shedding 9.4 per cent on Monday alone.

The inability of the divided government to end 12 years of civil war is widely believed to be behind the collapse, which has fuelled inflation to more than 300 per cent this year.

Black market dealers, making the market by telephone and walkie-talkie, kept on trading after Monday's official closing and reached a range of between 470.00/500.00 to the dollar.

"People are buying the dollar at any rate, no matter what the price " said a black market dealer. "The Lebanese want to get rid of their local currency.

Evren calls for building arms industry with Arab money

ABU DHABI (R) - Turkish President Kenan Evren, in an interview published on Monday, called on Gulf Arab states to finance joint arms production projects with Turkey.

We in Turkey have the capabilities in this field and have the technology, but have some problems with finding financing for the projects," be told the United Arah Emirates newspaper Al Ittihad . President Evren said he bad told Arab and Islamic states to form a 'financial federation... that would enable us to produce the arms we are now buying. We must not ignore the truth that arms trade bas become very profitable. Turkey is a member of the Islamic Organisation Conference grouping 46 Muslim countries including all the Arah states. Also a member of the North Atlantic Treaty Organisation, it currently co-produces U.S.-designed F-16 fighters and has sought tenders for mobile radar systems. Defence industry sources in Ankara said earlier that Turkey was seeking foreign partners to jointly produce missile systems and helicopters in a multi-billion-dollars drive to modernise its armed ### forces. Renault gets government help

PARIS (R) — The French government said last week that it was writing off nearly a quarter of the debt of state car giant Renault in a bid to restore the group to financial independence and make it more-

Prime Minister Jacques Chirac's office said in a statement the government also planned to transform Renault - nationalised since the end of World War II - into a limited liability company while remaining the sole sharebolder.

"In its new legal form Renault will find the independence and flexibility which its European and worldwide competitors already enjoy, and which is necessary to take them on," the statement said. Under the plan the government will cancel 12 billion francs ($2 billion) of the group's long-term debt. Renault's debts at the end of last year totalled 56 billion francs ($9.3 billion) and after the operation will still owe at least 40 billion francs ($6.6 billion), mostly to commercial banks. The bill to make Renault a limited liability company is due to be discussed in cabinet on Oct. 28 and will then go to parliament for dehate. The government bopes to bave it approved before the recess for the May presidential elections.

It said that Renault would make a significant profit at the end of this year, showing that it was well on the road to recovery after several years of large losses.

The company has said it expects to make a profit of around one billion francs ($170 million) this year, compared with last year's consolidated net loss of 5.54 hillion francs ($920 million).

Stock, dollar plunge again

LONDON (R) - Stock prices round the world plunged again on Monday and the dollar started to slide again, bringing swift central bank intervention to prop it.

Jittery investors sought the safe baven of gold, sending the price up $4 in just an bour to $479 an

The Bank of England and West German Bundesbank bothbought dollars when America's currency dropped below 1.77 West German marks to a low of 1.7655. Many economists say governments must stop the present panic spreading to currency markets and causing a flight from the dollar.

On the stock markets, after new falls in Asia, London took another dive and a sharp drop in the value of U.S. shares traded in Britain suggested that Wall Street might begin the week with further losses, dealers said.

"The sell-out continues," said a broker in Frankfurt, wbere share prices fell eight per cent at the start of husiness.

Monday's new share slide, a week after a record one-day fall on Wall Street shattered the confidence of the world's investors, was set off when panic selling in Hong Kong rohbed sbares there of one third of their value.

Officials had shut the British colony's market last week, hoping the global panic would abate. But its reopening on Monday brought a deluge of pent-up sell orders.

Elsewbere, market gloom about prospects for quick action on such economic problems as the buge U.S. hudget and trade deficits deepened as the dollar fell.

In London, the Financial Times Stock Exchange 100-sbare index opened 109.7 points, or six per cent, lower at 1,685.5, and then slid further to a mid-morning low of 1,640.7, down 154.5 points or 8.6 per cent.

U.S. shares traded over the counter in London fell five per cent. In Tokyo, the world's biggest stock market, Japanese shares fell 4.7 per cent as the 225-sbare Nikkei index dropped 1,096.22 points to close at 22,202.56.

A London dealer in U.S. deficit. shares said: "It's going to be "But manother blue Monday." hargloom.

The Paris Bourse indicator opened 3.75 per cent lower and soon slid to more than 7.67 per down. Amsterdam's Share index fell 3.4 points, or 4.3 per cent, to 75.4 while the Milan stock index was down 3.5 per

In Zurich, where the stock exchange opened 30 minutes late,

the All Share Swiss index opened 34.1 points, or 4.3 per cent, lower, at 928.5 before sliding below

900, down seven per cent. In Hong Kong, despite the cooling-off period, an easing of restrictions on firms buying their own shares, and a government promise to pump money into the shaky futures market, the Hang Seng index fell 33.3 per cent, or 1,120.7 points, to 2,241.69.

"It was desperation selling," said one broker.

China was huying shares in companies with which it bas close links in a bid to prop up their value. It belped, hut was not enough to steady the whole market.

Mr. Gao Shangquan, viceminister of the state commission for restructuring the economy, said China will study the causes of the crisis, hut added that the crash will not affect plans to encourage sbare ownership and open stock markets.

In Taiwan, sbare analysts said they doubted the government's package of measures to huoy confidence would keep investors from selling.

In Bangkok, the 97-sbare
Securities Exchange of Thailand index fell 31.31 points, or 7.8 per cent, to 368.18.

Australian shares dropped 6.7 per cent, with Sydney's All Ordinaries index down 100.7 points to 1.413.0. Blue-chip industrials shares were especially hard hit.

"Wall Street's failure to improve on Friday left it with no other way to go - and it basn't finished yet," said one broker. Not even the rising price of gold — as investors sought security with that traditional safe baven - buoyed mining company shares, either in Australia or South Africa. Meanwhile, investors will be watching for any developments from President Reagan's meeting with congressional leaders to discuss ways of cutting the budget But many doubt it will lift the

"So far, it's been just rumour and speculation," said one currency dealer with a West German see what actual, concrete measures emerge. "We (the United States) need much more effective control over our institutions and over our markets," said Wall Street guru Hen-

U.S. asks Israelis to 'avoid' careless talk and keep mum'

TEL AVIV (AP) — The Reagan administration has asked Israeli leaders to refrain from making public statements about the U.S. stock market crisis and possible damage to the economies of the two countries, a cabinet minister was quoted Monday as saying.

The daily Jerusalem Post quoted Finance Minister Moshe Nissim as telling fellow ministers at a closed-door weekly cabinet session Sunday that U.S. officials bad requested politicians here "to talk circumspectly."

"Our watchword must be: Avoid carelss talk and keep mum." Nissim was quoted as saying. "We can cause problems, whatever statements we make. We have to take care... because the situation is not clear, as yet."

The comments were seen as a reference to recent statements by Defence Minister Yitzhak Rahin, who has publicly expressed fears that the current U.S. economic climate might force damaging cutbacks in U.S. aid to Israel. Israel currently receives some $3 hillion annually in U.S. economic Rabin expressed those fears again Sunday. "Maintaining the current aid package will be a real challenge for Israel's supporters in Congress if there is a serious economic deterioration in the United States," he told a group of air force workers in Tel Aviv.

The daily Maariv newspaper reported Monday that U.S. officials, fearing budget cuts, had asked Israel to examine the possibility of foregoing some of the $1.8 billion it receives annually in U.S. military

The paper said Israeli officials were leaning toward giving up about $80 million of next year's aid as a "goodwill gesture.

Meanwhile, the Israeli stock market seemed to be recovering Monday after a week of erratic trading hy investors frightened hy events on Wall Street.

Sbaul Goldfarb, spokesman for the Tel Aviv Stock Exchange, said morning index of blue chip stock trading indicated a drop of only .13 per cent, which he said was "generally considered normal.

The index measures a representative sample of 25 stocks, about 40 per cent of a day's trading volume, Goldfarh said. On Sunday, hlue chip stocks dropped by a rate of 5.63 per cent in response to losses in world markets. Sunday's drop was a purely emotional reaction to events in other laces in the world," Goldfarb said. "Nothing bas happened in the Israeli economy to justify it."

Asked whether the Israeli market had recovered from the stock crisis, Goldfarb said: "I think and hope so. But you can never predict bow investors will react on a given day."

The Jerusalem Post quoted government officials as saying they were worried about the weakening of the U.S. dollar. The officials said they were concerned that Israeli exports would suffer from a U.S. recession, and they said the sbekel, Israel's currency, might bave to be devalued if the dollar continued to fall.

ry Kaufman, chief economist at ican or the world economy, investment bankers Salomon Brothers Inc. "That's not the direction we are taking," be said in a British television interview broadcast on Sunday, night.

from the sharp decline in equity prices is that we are likely to have equal to and perhaps even in excess of the volatility we bave rial average dropped 508 points, bad in recent days," Mr. Kauf- or 22.5 per cent.

overreacting, possibly in a way that will keep feeding on itself. What bas happened does not

wrote economist John Kenneth Galbraith in the London Sunday

"The overwhelming factor was greed, which turned suddenly into fear - the end of the spe-"The single lesson we can learn culative euphoria...," he added. In Tokyo, brokers are worried because Wall Street must now continued, substantial volatility, settle up on deals made a week ago, when the Dow Jones industor 22.5 per cent.

But, some fear the markets are stock to raise the cash to meet settlements and margin calls, said one broker, referring to the debts investors accumulate when they put down only a part of the

reflect any strong views as to what might bappen to the Amerpurchase price of a share.

irms shift to indirect ties with Sou WASHINGTON (R) - The (IRRC), a non-profit group that other agreements with the local

pace of U.S. companies severing ties with South Africa quickened slightly this year but many firms simply shifted to indirect investment, diluting the economic impact of divestment.

A report by the Investor Responsibility Research Centre tracks American investment in South Africa, said 96 American companies bad ended their direct links to South Africa between January 1986 and last month.

But the IRRC's report said 42 of those companies had maintained licencing, distribution or groups buying their operations— ensuring their products remained available in South Africa. Mr. David Hauck, an IRRC director, told a news conference that this shift from direct to indirect investment bad diluted the impact of the U.S. divestment movement on the South African economy.

"The impact on South Africa of disinvestment by so many firms has been extremely small," Mr. Hauck said. "Due to the shift to indirect investment... South Africa continues to have access to the technology it needs."

Peanuts

STUPID CHICKEN! 60

SHE'S BEEN RUNNING AROUND SAYING THE SKY 15 FALLING ...

Mutt'n' Jeff

Andy Capp

THE BETTER HALF. By Harris I CAN'T STAND IT ANYMORE!! HOW MANY DAYS HAVE I BEEN ON MY DIET? SEVENTEEN HARRIS

JUMBLE THAT SCRAMBLED WORD GAME
by Henri Amold and Bob Lea

ACROSS 1 Br. round of duties 5 Jai siel basket 10 Movie dog 14 Baghdad's country 15 Obtain new weepons 16 Husband ot Jezebel 17 Bolivia's neighbor 18 Egyptian measure 19 Tia shape 20 Contemptit 22 Truffle a.g. 24 NM srt colony measure 27 Calvin Kieln 31 Open shoe 35 Author Hunter 36 Norce gods 38 Lamb's mama 1967 Tribung Media Services, Inc. All Rights Reserved 39 Light lune 40 Rio ds la — Yesterday's Puzzle Solved: 41 Barter 3 Naxious weed 4 Type of 42 Heb. laller etching S Drawing Item B Poet's word 44 Vahicia 45 Lscking vigor 47 Bos 50 Inquires 52 Expel 53 Southern 7 Internous marquia larmers gods 10 Gar. city S7 Bscon portion 51 Siam visitor 62 Contacted TOTAL TANDENA GALE TEL DAIR SAROUDO A ATOLL ISEE H SEGAL REAL T DODY ESTE 11 Avoid 12 Forbidden 13 Help 21 Move sharply 23 Autocral 64 Sch. subl. 65 Urban area 66 Arab prince: 25 Sea crealures 27 Gr. letter Fr. spa Ointment 43 Hope 45 Part of Asia 48 Dawn goddes 49 Civil War 54 Step — (hur 55 Hep 56 Zr. gun 58 Nimbus 59 Coup d' — 80 Oatrich-like place 69 Winiar visitor 70 Psrt of n.b. 30 Lariat 32 Indian official 33 Sive ribbon

US Army

THE Daily Crossword by Harvay L. Chow

Sri Lankan rebels slip through 3 killed in Philippine Indian army net at Jaffna

JAFFNA, Sri Lanka (Agencies) — Sri Lankan rebels cornered in this battered northern port have slipped past advancing Indian troops and into the surrounding jungle, the top Indian commander said.

Lieutenant-General Depinder Singh, overall commander of the 20,000-strong Indian Peace-Keeping Force (IPKF), said that after 10 days of fighting his troops had only limited control of Indian forces were confined to main roads because of sniper fire. mines and booby traps, he said.

Gen. Singh said his wild guess" was that up to 1,200 Liberation Tigers of Tamil Eelam (LTTE) guerrillas had escaped with their weapons through Indian lines as the battle for Jaffna reached its final stages last week. "If good sense prevails," Gen. Singh said, 'they will come back and join the peace process." From the ramparts of the Dutch-huilt fort overlooking the lagoon frequent explosions could be heard which Indian officers said were from mines being detonated by sappers.

A few columns of smoke could be seen to the north east where Gen. Singh said a few pockets of Tiger resistance still held out.

Sappers were making house-tohouse searches for boohy traps and sweeping streets for mines, Gen. Singh said

"The process of cleaning up the whole town will take a little time," he added.

Gen. Singh said the Tigers' hardline leader Velupillai Prahhakaran, who repudiated an Indo-Sri Lankan accord to end a four-year-old Tamil separatist revolt on the island, might have been one of the first to slip out of Jaffna. Indian intelligence officers believe he is somewhere in western Sri Lanka. Gen. Singh repeated previous Indian statements that to prevent civilian casualties in the drive for Jaffna only minimum force and no air power or heavy artillery

Indian officers could intervene and usher reporters away, pa-tients said Indian forces shelled and bombed villages in the Jaffna peninsula during the campaign. The Indian army barred journalists from their operations zone until last Friday.

There was little hattle damage visible at Jaffna Hospital which Indian spokesmen last week said

But the shabby wards were filled with mostly women and children, some of whom told reporters they received their wounds from the Indian forces. Mrs. K. Srikanda of Urunparai said Indian forces bombed her village and shelled the village am, cradled a young boy, his foot partially blown off by what the old man said was a mortar bomb fired from Jaffna Fort. He said his daughter and other relations

Indian officers conceded that their troops had encountered hostility from residents and said some civilians were injured mainly in cross-fire between the Indian Peace-Keeping Force and the Tt-

An Indian spokesman said there were varying estimates of civilian injuries, ranging from 60 by the Indian High Commission in Colombo, to 100 by a Jaffina Church Coalition and 300 by the Indian troops firing from helicopters destroyed three Tamil rebel vehicles carrying ammunition

"The vehicles exploded, in-

Ugandan rebels attack army, retreat with losses

KAMPALA (R) — Five hundred rebels infiltrated the Ugandan army barracks near the country's second largest city, Jinja, hut retreated after a 30-minute battle with troops guarding the armoury, a government newspaper said on Monday.

New Vision said the rebel Holy Spirit Movement, a hizarre Christian group from northern Uganda, lost about 100 fighters in the battle on Sunday and the government's National Resistance Army (NRA) captured 60. The fighting took place at Magamaga, 16 kilometres north east of Jinja, The NRA suffered some casualties but no figures were available, the newspaper said.

New Vision gave a confused account of the latest movements of the 2,500-strong rebel group, and it was not immediately clear where they had gone.

The independent newspaper Focus said one group containing Alice Lakwena, the 27-year-old prophetess who leads the movement, was encamped about 10 kilometres north east of Jinja, while another was a few miles farther east.

Both positions are west of Magamaga, suggesting that despite the abortive attack on the barracks the movement has broken through the first line of the NRA's defence of Jinja. Rebel leaders have told reporters they plan to march on the capital Kampala to overthrow the government of Yoweri Museveni.

The NRA has vastly superior weaponry than the rebels, many of whom are fighting with stones they believe explode like gre-nades when thrown at NRA

France plays down Tahiti riots but flies in police

saying it was an isolated incident. hut sent in hundreds of police and troops to make sure its island main port, a lifeline for the reterritory did not become the next mote tropical island.

Pacific trouble spot. Security Minister Rohert Pandraud rejected comparisons with separatist violence in the French territory of New Caledonia and a coup in Fiji.

He said there were probably some separatists among the 500 striking dockworkers and youths who wrecked shops and fought police in the capital, Papeete, but

PARIS (R) — France has played he dismissed them as "marginal down Friday's riot in Tahiti, elements."

The riot erupted when police evicted the dockers from the Fighting hroke out and youths in the town centre joined the strikers., throwing stones and petrol bombs. About 20 people were injured, three seriously, and 60 people were arrested.

A curfew was imposed and a state of emergency declared on Saturday for the first time on the

Reforms have little effect in Uzbekistan — Pravda

MOSCOW (R) — Soviet leader from people in Uzbekistan in the tan. a Central Asian republic long mic issues in the republic. plagued by corruption, the news-

Mikhail Gorbachev's drive for first nine months of 1987, and social and economic renewal is some gave evidence of a new failing to reach much of Uzbekis- approach to political and econo-"However, as is indicated by paper Pravda said on Monday.

The Communist Party daily said it had received 4,503 letters da said.

the mail, restructuring has so far not reached many places." Pravda said. the mail, restructuring has so far

GOREN BRIDGE

5Y CHARLES GOREN AND OMAR SHARIF

SOUTH

#9g

Opening lead: Ten of &

We are frequently asked what we consider to be the best system of leads. We are probably the wrong people to ask, for we are quite happy with the methods that have served us so well in the past.

One of the more popular systems involves the lead of the 10 of a suit in show either 0 or 2 higher cards.

It works well on occasion, but at times can be of crucial help to declarer. This hand is from the Open

Pairs event at the 7th World Olym-

The hidding.

1 + Pass

TOO REVEALING?

piad in Miami Beach. Both vulnerable. South deals. Sitting South was Paul Marston NORTH of Australia, one of the candidates in the 1986 Royal Viking Line AQJ "Player of the Year" competition. 4Q3754 He and his partner, Stephen Bur-gess, reached four spades in two bids. Marston's one spade opening WEST EAST 4Q87 ♥K10754 7J822 bid was limited, so Burgess was not ♦ 1098754 • K worried about missing a slam.

★ K 1062 Had one of your writers led the 10 of diamonds against four spades, declarer would probably *A8543 TAQ6 have taken the finesse and ended up failing by one trick (the lead could have been from K-10-9). East would win and shift to a club, and a South West North East third club would promote a trump trick for the defenders.

Here, however, East-West were using the opening leads described above. Marston knew that West than the 10, so he had to have none higher. Therefore, the finesse was doomed. So declarer rose with the ace and great was the fall thereon. Wilh West marked with great length in diamonds, he was the one more likely to be short in trumps. So declarer cashed the king, picking up the jack, and ran the ten (ap-plying the Principle of Restricted Choice) to land his contract with

But at Jaffna Hospital, before

was the target of Tiger mortar school about 15 days ago. Another patient, S. Thilembarexploded on Sunday in a Roman Catholic college dormitory being meeting, killing three of the participants and wounding 26.

in a village near Jaffna, killing seven Tamil rebels, Sri Lankan military officials said Monday.

dicating there were explosives and ammunition in them," one official said.

Rowny says INF missile treaty can be reached soon

PEKING (R) — A near-complete agreement scrapping intermediate-range nuclear missiles could be concluded within weeks and signed without a Reagan-Gorbachev summit meeting, a U.S. presidential aide said on Monday.

Ambassador Edward Rowny, special adviser to the president for arms control matters, said only issues of verification of the intermediate range nuclear forces (INF) agreement remained to be settled between the superpowers. "The important thing is not a summit date hut a verifiable reduction of nuclear weapons," Mr. Rowny said after meeting Chinese officials to report on Moscow talks last week between U.S. Secretary of State George Shultz and Soviet Foreign Minister Eduard Shevardnadze.

"A summit is not required to sign an INF agreement," Mr. Rowny told a news conference.

The Moscow talks failed to se a date for a meeting between Mr. Reagan and Mr. Gorbachev, who had been expected to sign the agreement in Washington in

Opinion poll results favour Belgian opposition parties

showed the centre-right Belgian government could face stiff opposition from Socialist parties in a general election expected before the end of the year.

The government collapsed last week over a language row between French- and Dutch-speaking communities and Prime ister Wilfried Martens, heading a caretaker administration, said he expected a new election to be held on Dec. 13.

The poll, conducted for the The poll showed that only in the small bilingual Brussels re-newspaper La Lihre Belgique, showed his own Dutch-speaking holding their own.

BRUSSELS (R) — An opinion Christian Democratic Party and poll published on Monday his coalition allies losing ground to the left,

Support for coalition parties had fallen to 47.8 per cent from 52 per cent in Dutch-speaking Flanders and dropped more than four per cent to 42.4 per cent in French-speaking Wallonia since elections in October 1985, it said. Support for the Socialists in s rose three per cent to

Yugoslav riot police sent to Kosova to end violence

PRISTINA, Yugoslavia (R) - ethnic Albanians and the Yugoslav authorities sent riot 200,000, mainly Serb, minority. In Belgrade, Western diplovince and Western diplomats said mats said the federal authorities it was meant to warn Albanian were alarmed that tension in the and Serbian troublemakers that province might lead to a serious the government would get tough.

The central government on Sunday sent 380 paramilitary police to strengthen local security

Warning to the rival communities.

The heavily-armed Federal Police Force is used by the Intween the area's 1.7 million and anti-terrorism.

conflict and wanted to deliver a in Kosovo after tension rose be- terior Ministry for riot control

Dhaka detains 300 dissident politicians to foil 'siege'

DHAKA (R) — Police arrested more than 300 Bangladeshi opposition politicians in a midnight swoop on Sunday to frustrate plans for a protest "siege" aimed at bringing Dhaka to a halt, the government said on Home (Interior) Minister Mohammad Abdul Matin said other opposition leaders had gone into hiding to avoid arrest.

"They have smelt a rat because they have read our warning prop-

Among those arrested were Oli Ahmad and Akbar Hossain, both retired army officers and senior members of the Bangladesh Nationalist Party (BNP). Also taken into custody were Abdul Mannan, a key figure in the Awami League, and two opposition members of parliament. Rashed Mosharraf and A.K.M. Feroze, police said. Mr. Matin said those arrested were trying to disrupt peace and stage an illegal siege of the Bangladesh capital on Nov. 10. They were all served with a one-month detention order.

Three alliances of 21 political parties, including the Awami League and the BNP, called the protest to try to drive President Hossain Mohammad Ershad from power.

They said hundreds of thousands of people from the countryside would march to Dhaka, surrounding offices and important installations to try to cripple the government.

The arrests followed a warnbing hy the Home Ministry on Saturday that those taking part in the siege or giving it publicity would risk legal action.

"At least they (the opposition) can't say we didn't give them notice," Mr. Matin said. He said he had asked police not to arrest the two most prominent opposition leaders. Sheikh Hasina and Begum Khaleda Zia, "unless it is absolutely necessary." Sheikh Hasina said the siege would go ahead despite the

"We are determined to go ahead with the movement till the fall of the present government." she told a press conference on Monday.

She disputed the government argument that the siege was illeg-al because it would disrupt peace and curtail individual freedoms. "Siege or strike is part of constitutional politics. It can never be illegal," Sheikh Hasina said.

Kim Dae-Jung has been feuding with Kim Young-Sam, head of the main opposition Reunifica-ings and the six bridges sustained only minor damage. All but one remained passable, the military Government troops have been

No one was killed in the bomb-

guerrilla bomb blast

ZAMBOANGA, Philippines (R)

— Rebels bombed a businessmen's conference killing three people, the military said on Six bridges in the southern

The military said a grenade hidden in a bagful of sandwiches used by local businessmen for a

No one has claimed responsihility for the dormitory attack but army spokesman Col. Anthony

Elias said investigators believed it was the work of Muslim rebels

fighting for self-rule in the Min-

The incident occurred in the Roman Catholic Notre Dame

College on nearby Jolo Island, a stronghold of the separatist Moro

National Liberation Front

Col. Elias said MNLF rebels had demanded money from the college but school officials re-

Investigation showed the grenade was hidden in a paper bag brought in to the dormitory by an unidentified boy. The bomb was hidden among sandwiches

danao region.

(MNLF).

Elias said.

Philippines were also bombed, it

Monday.

sent to track down the rebels, Gen. Altıma said. The attack on the Mindanao bridges followed a hridge-blowing campaign by NPA insurgents in the Bicol region on the southern part of the main Philippine island of Luzon last month.

The NPA hlew up five bridges in Bicol and wrecked a railway to isolate the area from Manila.

In Manila, President Corazon Aquino said on Sunday she would not allow the arming of civilian vigilantes being organised by provincial officials around the country to fight Communist rebels.

Mrs. Aquino made the remarks in a weekly radio broadcast two days after meeting with vigilantes in Davao City. She told members of the largest group, Alsa Masa (masses arise), they were a model in the battle against the 18-yearold Communist insurgency.

"What is necessary is for these vigilante groups to recognise that (membership) is voluntary," she said. "Secondly, they should not be armed and they should always be under the direct supervision of the armed forces or the police."

ordered by the businessmen, Col. Mrs. Aquino said the vigilante groups in Davao "started because the citizens themselves decided It went off soon after the boy on their own to combat Communist rebels.

Meanwhile Communist New People's Army (NPA) rebels She added, "we cannot just damaged six bridges in southern allow them to form on their own Cagayan De Oro City and three and organise vigilante groups nearby municipalities in separate without officials who will be attacks on Sunday and Monday, directly in full control and rearea commander Brigadiersponsible for the acts of the vigi-

Kirkpatrick decides not to join presidential race

WASHINGTON (R) - Former an earlier decision to sit out the United Nations Ambassador Jeane Kirkpatrick said on Sunday she had decided against a bid for the 1988 Republican presidential nomination.

General Jesus Altuna said.

"For personal and political reasons I decided not to become a candidate," she said in a state; ment released by her office here. "I'm grateful for the support of all those who urged me to do so," she said. Mrs. Kirkpatrick, a favourite of the party's right-wing activists because of her staunch anti-Communism, had been reconsidering contest. The Los Angeles Times reported on Saturday that Mrs. Kirkpatrick would seek the nomination, making her the first woman on a Republican presidential ballot since former Maine Senator Margaret Chase Smith, who ran in 1964.

Mrs. Kirkpatrick had been weighing a late entry into the six-man Republican field because of the failure of other conservative favourites such as New York Representative Jack Kemp to catch fire.

Rebel leader cautiously backs Sihanouk diplomacy

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — Kampuchean resistance leader Prince Norodom Sihanouk has received the cautious backing of resistance partner Son Sann for his efforts to hold the first talks on ending the nearly 9-year-old Kampuchean war.

Son Sann's backing appeared to strengthen the likelihood that Prince Sihanouk will hold talks in Paris in December with Prime Minister Hun Sen of the Vietnamese-installed government in Kampuchea.

Prince Sihanouk's forces are allied in a coalition with Son Sann's Khmer Peoples National Liberation Front and the Khmer Rouge in battling an estimated 140.000 Vietnamese troops occupying Kampuchea.

Son Sann's position on Prince Sihanouk's diplomacy had been unclear since Prince Sihanouk, on leave of absence as coalition president, apparently would be acting outside the coalition if he meets Hun Sen. The Khmer Rouge has rejected the proposed talks. Son Sann's first public comments on the issue came in an interview broadcast over the resistance radio last Saturday. A text was obtained Monday from a Western embassy in Bangkok.

Son Sann said: "I talked to Samdech (Your Royal Highness) Sihanouk in these terms: Your highness, if you find a political solution that would immediately end the people's suffering, it will be great.

But he added: "Talking to them alone will not make them listen. We open the door for talks and we fight them to go through that door.'

He also told Prince Sihanouk that the United Nations has greatly helped the resistance cause and Vietnam has no chance of finding any other way out of the conflict.

He said Vietnam "is very desperate now" and has asked help from Austria, France, Romania and other countries to find a solution through "negotiation without any mention of the immediate troop withdrawal.

South Korean opposition leaders to split formally

SEOUL (R) — South Korea's tion Democratic Party (RDP), opposition leaders will formally over who should stand for the split to run against each other for president, their aides said on Monday—a move which analysts say could hand victory to the government candidate.

The aides said Kim Dae-Jung would form a new political party next month to stand for president against his rival Kim Young-Sam. They said Kim Dae-Jung, 63, a former presidential candidate, was expected to announce the decision on Wednesday. "With the failure of all efforts to agree on one opposition candidate, we have decided that a new party was the best alternative," a Kim Dae-Jung aide told repor-

RDP in December's presidential election, the first free and direct one for 16 years.

Political analysts and many opposition politicians say a split in the opposition vote will ensure victory for ex-General Roh Tae-Woo, President Chun Doo Hwan's handpicked successor. Mr. Chun is due to step down when his seven-vear mandate, given by a 5,000-member Electoral College, ends next February.

South Koreans will vote on Tuesday in a referendum on a new democratic draft constitution. The charter was approved hy parliament on Oct. 12 in rare bipartisan accord and provides for the direct presidential poll and other reforms. Ratification is seen as a foregone conclusion.

COLUMNS 768

'Queen to patch up Charles, Diana rift'

LONDON (R) — The fairytale marriage of Queen Elizabeth's son Prince Charles and his wife Diana is said by the tahloid press to be rocky and even Britain's heavyweight papers have joined the torrent of scrutiny about the couple's future. The queen returned home from the Commonwealth summit this weekend faced with a reported public rift between the couple who have earned a reputation as the superstar royals of the electronic era. At first, reports of an estrangement were attributed to the perennial circulation wars of Fleet Street's gossipy tabloids. For months the alleged collapse of a love affair - dubbed the most romantic of the century at their wedding in 1981 — has been chronicled in soap opera-style detail. But the fact that the heir to the British throne has just spent 39 days apart from his glamorous 26-year-old wife finally raised the eyebrows of the respected London Sunday Times and its more conservative competitor, the Sunday Telegraph. Now the publicity-shy queen is reported ready to step in to reconcile the couple and put an end to front page speculation about their separate lives. "It is said Her Majesty will impress upon them that whatever the state of their marriage, Charles and Diana must avoid lengthy periods out of each other's company," the Sunday Times wrote. "The rift has been growing for some time but this is the most serious and most public separation so far," the pro-royal Sunday Express quoted a "source close to Buckingham Palace" as saying. Prince Charles has spent the best part of the past five weeks at Balmoral. Princess Diana, who is known to dislike that royal Scottish retreat, stayed

Big Ben clock silenced on the hour

LONDON (R) - Big Ben, Britain's most famous clock and one of London's top tourist attractions, has stopped striking on the hour. A Department of Environment spokesman has said that repairs being carried out on the clock near the Houses of Parliament had silenced its hourly chimes. "Big Ben is not striking on the hour at the moment," he said. "As a precautionary measure we stopped the clock and took away for investigation the pieces we were concerned about." Engineers carrying out routine naintenance on Big Ben when British summer time ended on Sunday discovered what appeared to be cracks in the mechanism which controls the on-the-hour chiming, he said. A £1.7 million ($2.85 million) restoration of Big Ben — by which many Britons set their watches — was completed just over two years ago.

Models shun Kuwait due to war fears

KUWAIT (AP) — Many of the international models due to appear at the week-long Kuwait Fashion Fair have decided to stay away after three missile hits and a bombing in this Gulf nation, the English-language Kuwait Times reported Monday. As a result, several fashion shows have been cancelled, the newspaper reported. The fair, which brings major international couturiers to Kuwait, is due to end Friday. In a separate editorial column, the independent newspaper commented: "Today's ladies of the catwalk do not care to take things in their stride. Their hardier sisters of bygone days would have braved fire and brimstone to make it to the front, if only to live up to showbiz tradition: That the show must go on." On its news pages the Kuwait Times quoted the fair's exhibition manager, Lola Anderson, as saying the models were staying away because of the current tensions in the Gulf and Kuwait. Fashion houses from 16 countries are taking part in the fair. The Kuwait Times quoted an official of the French Ready-to-Wear and Textile Federation as saying that after Saudi Arabia, Knwait was the second-largest market in the Middle East for French apparel.

Italian doctor canonised by Pope

VATICAN CITY (AP) — A doctor who cared especially for the poor in the southern Italian port of Naples was declared a saint Sunday hy Pope John Paul II. Giuseppe Moscati, who died in Naples in 1927 at age 47, was canonised in an outdoor mass in St. Peter's Square attended by some 80,000 pilgrims. In his homily, the Pontiff praised Dr. Moscati as "an example not only to admire, but to imitate, particularly on the part of health workers." Dr. Moscati began his medical career at 23 in a hospital for the terminally ill. Among his patients was Italian tenor Enrico Caruso. He expanded his practice among the port city's poor, rarely accepting payment and becoming known for his ability to swiftly diagnose illnesses and use simple cures whenever possible. Dr. Moscati was beatified, the first step toward possible saint-hood, in 1975 by Pope Paul VI.

Veterans attend desert war memorial

EL-ALAMEIN, Egypt (R) — Italian Defence Minister Valerio Zanone and several hundred veterans attended ceremonies on Sunday in memory of those who died on Egypt's desert battlefields 45 years ago. Thousands who died in World War II desert campaigns are buried in Alamein, the Mediterranean town which gave its name to the battle in which British-led allied forces broke the German-Italian axis grip on Egypt. Each year Britain. West German and Italy take turns to organise a joint remembrance on the Sunday nearest to the Oct. 23 anniversary of the start of the battle. The religious service was attended by veterans and diplomats from most of the 28 countries that fought on both sides. "Yesterday's enemies are today's friends," said 70-year-old British desert veteran Ernie Huntley.

Long lost Titian painting sold for $1.5 m.

VENICE, Italy (AP) — A portrait of Hannibal by the 16th-century Venetian painter Titian, lost for some three centuries, was sold for 2 hillion lire ($1.53 million), news reports said. Italian designer and art collector Umberto Ginocchietti bought "guerriero," (warrior), the painting of the bearded Carthaginian general wearing a plumed helmet, at the sale held by the auction house Semanzato, the reports said. Bidding began at 1 billion lire ($769,000). and soared quickly through bids largely from American and Swiss collectors, the reports said. The oil painting on canvas was ordered by the Duke of Urbino, Francesco Maria Della. Rovere, in 1532, and was completed in 1535. After it was passed around among various noble families for about 150 years, alltraces of the painting were lost until 1973 when the British art historian H.E. Wethey located it in the private collection of an unidentified American collector. It was believed to have been put up for auction hy this collector, according to reports. Born Tiziano Vecellito in the small Dolomite Mountain town of Pieve Di Cadore in 1490, the artist known as Titian spent most of his career in Venice, and was hailed for much of his life as the lagoon city's finest painter. Considered a pioneer in his handling of colour, he died in Venice in 1576.

Thai customs seize biggest drug haul

BANGKOK (R) — Customs officials at Bangkok airport seized 700 kilogrammes of Africa-bound marijuana at the weekend in... their biggest drugs haul, a customs officer said on Monday. He said it was the customs' biggest airport drug seizure and had an estimated street value of almost $7 million. The officer said the marijuana was found on Sunday in boxes labelled "ceramic ware" addressed to Sierra Leone. No arrests were made hut the sender, whose name was withheld pending investigation, was believed to be a Westerner, the official said. That authorities have intercepted several drug shipments at the busy air terminal in the past